Mikki,
I don't have too much to write,
except that you're a really far out chick & see ya next year.
Be Good & Good Luck

Jeri

Love,
Diane

Mikki,
I hope you have a good summer
of at least it wasn't fun anyone to make fun
of it later when you just talk.
You're okay when you see ya next year. Good luck.

Mikki,
You're really crazy
person who's in 20
glad I got a new teacher forget all those great times we had in homeroom and we were to the ones a some have a fantastic summer, and hope to see you sometime.
Good luck
Debbie

Mikki,
 there's really not much to say to someone who's really flipped out.
 Your a really cool person and i really admire the way your just well been alot easier cause you were except it's about say something smart in there to always you hard ass. I'm sure, don't about something... you to have a good summer so, need to tell you to keep cool & maybe i'll see you won't. Just try to around...

To A really nice & sweet chick that I have known for a while Be cool
 see you sometime
 Tom

Mikki,
 To a real nice girl I met this year.
 Kevin

Mikki,
 I'm glad I had you in re of my classes. Wasn't it fun in Mr. Graham's class this year. You really came up with a burst of a plan. Hope you have a nice summer and I'll see you around.

muktu,

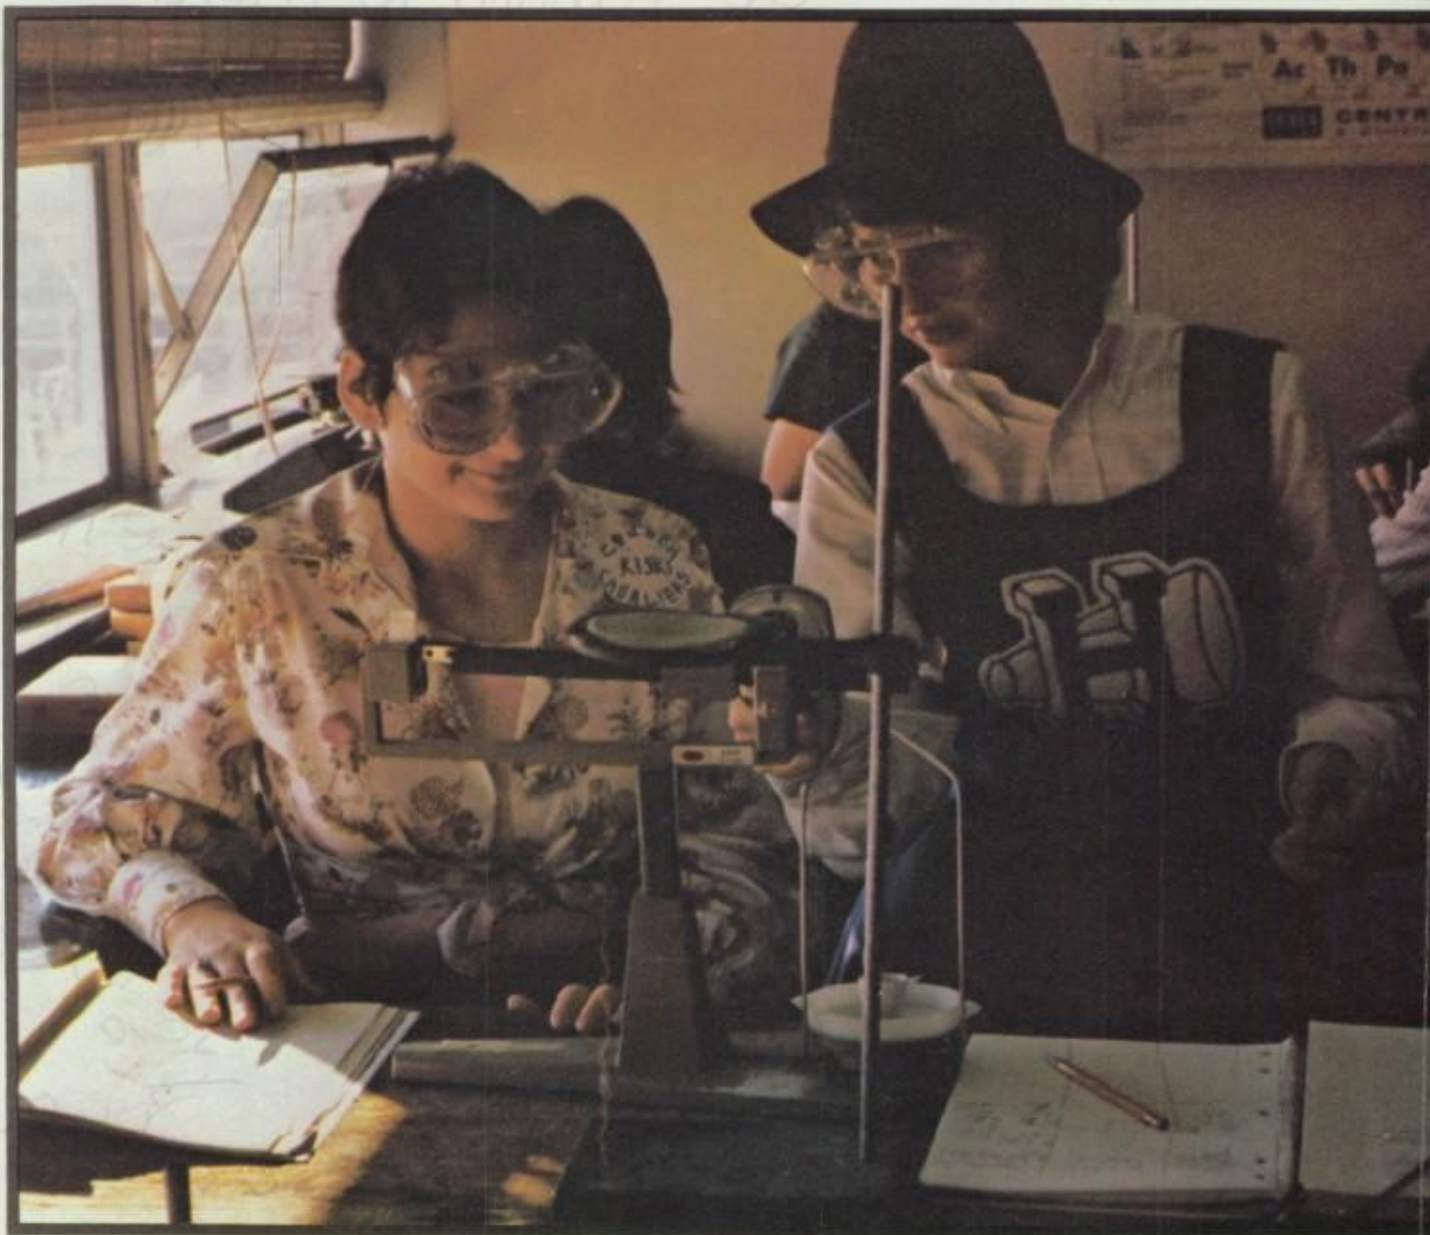

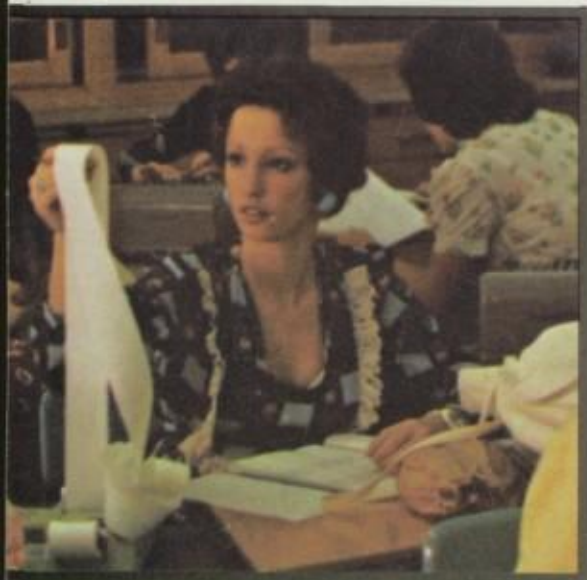

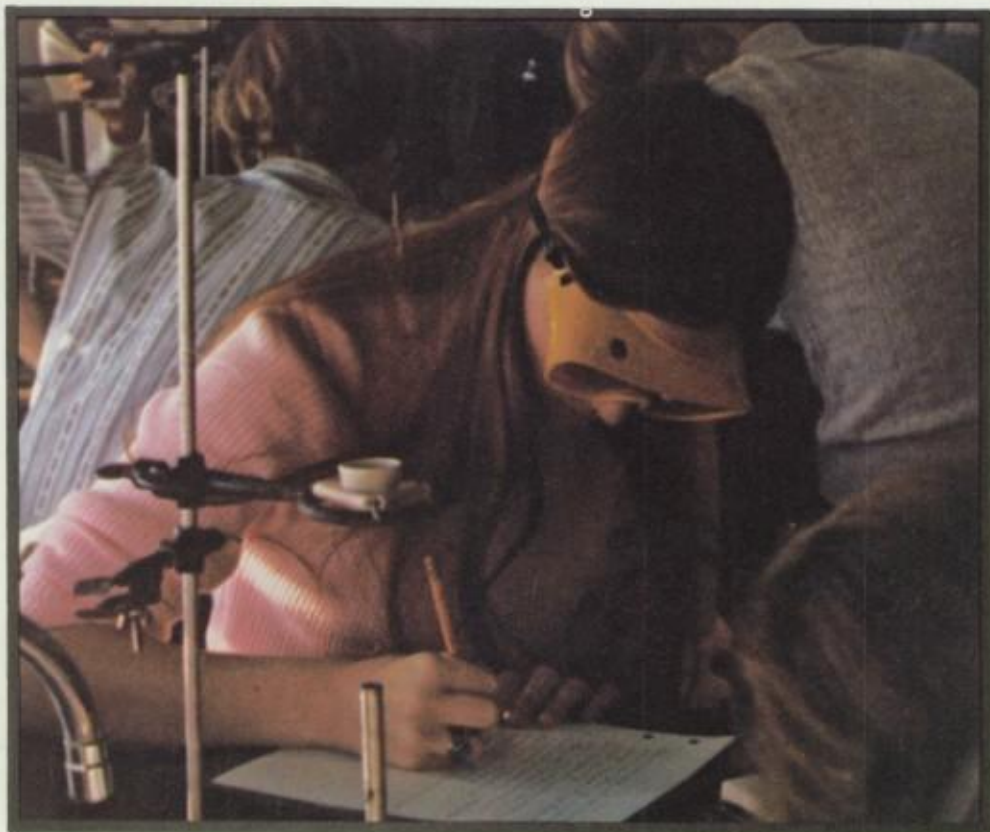

well, I have so much to say to you & I don't know where to begin. You've been a great friend to me, helping with all my problems no matter how big or small or dumb they were. I want to thank you so much for that. I hope you remember all the good times we had together, because I know I always will. We only have one more year at this damn school & we have to make it a good one. Right? Another thing, I better see you this summer or I'm going to be very mad. Okay? We'll have to get a bunch of kids together & come up to my house & go swimming again. We had a blast last year doing that. Well, there's so much more to say, but not the words for it. I love ya & be good.

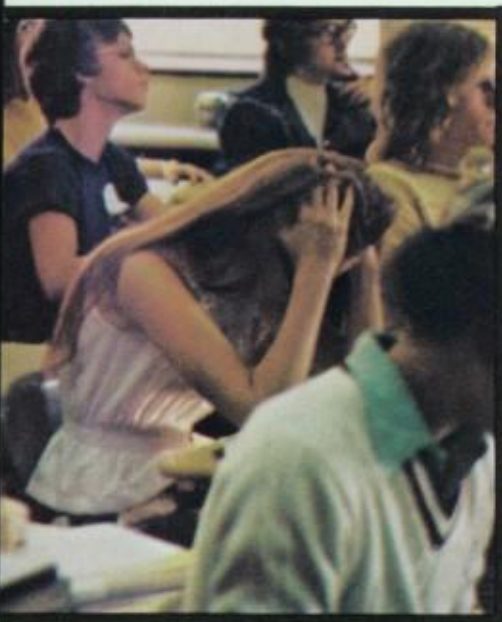

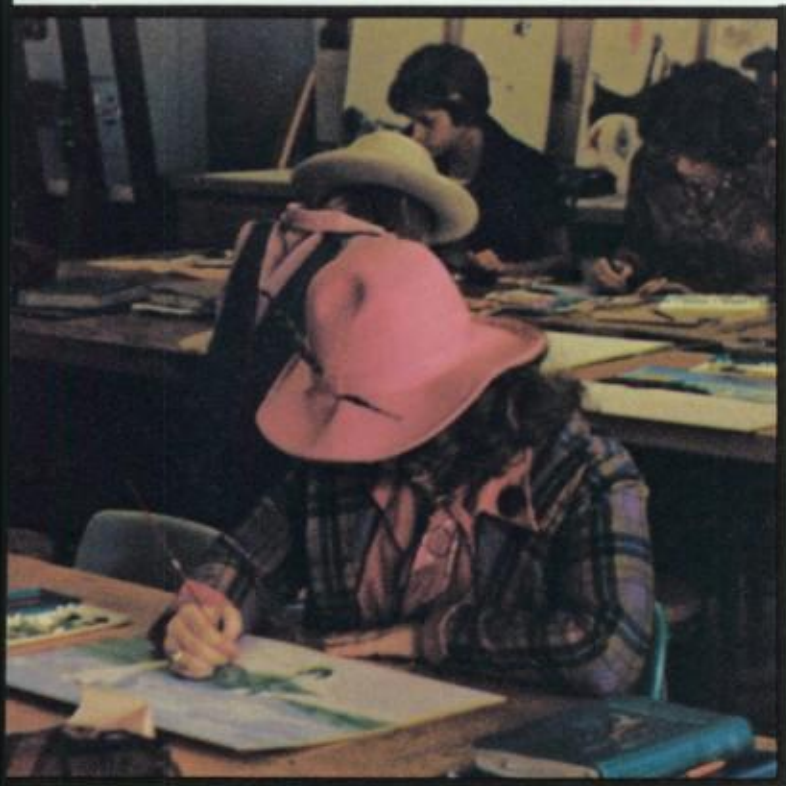

Love

STRIVING FOR PERFECTION

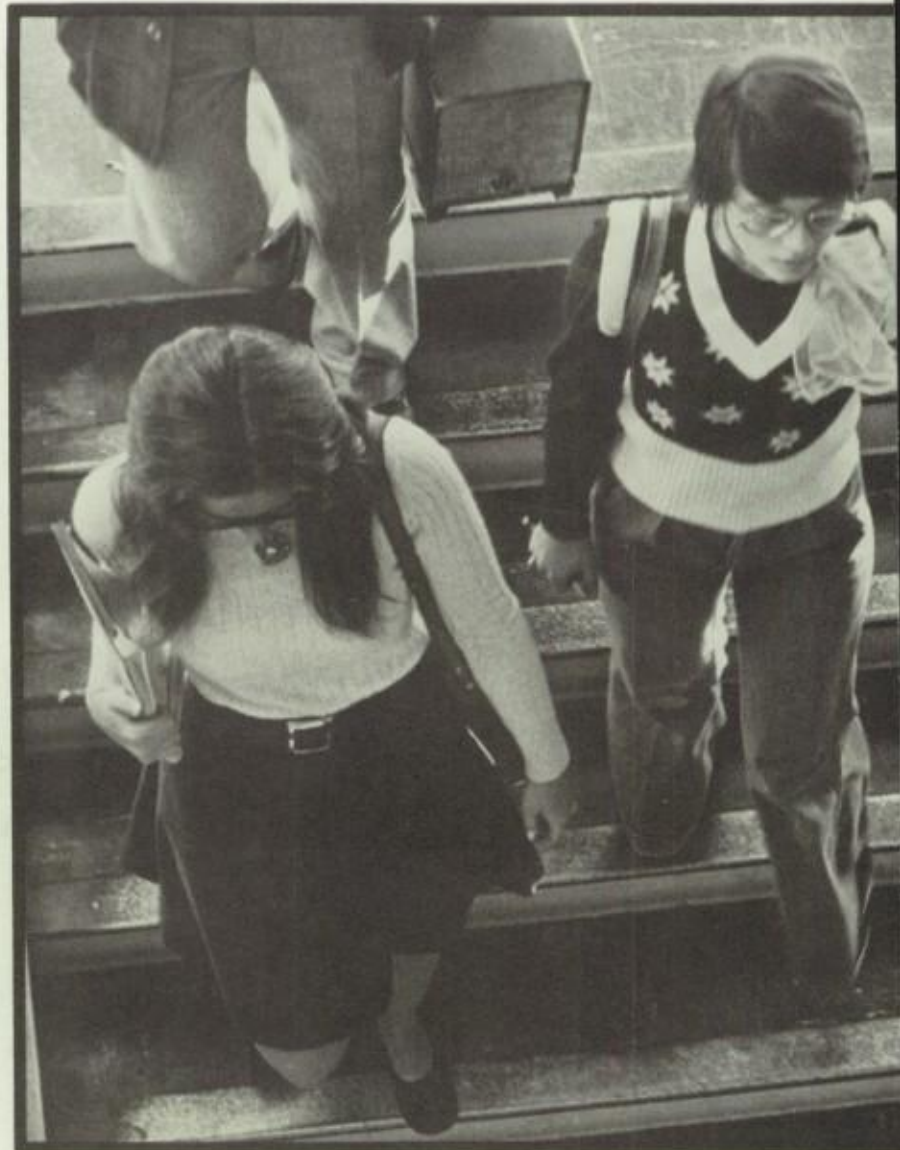

A perception: a vision of man as man could be Is this what drives the human animal to sacrifice, to fight onward relentlessly? — Wearying himself with tedious repetition that is so necessary to achieve accuracy, thrusting with fierce intensity to surpass his competitors, struggling to his feet from the depths of pain, wrestling with the impossible, never conceding defeat, but looking ahead to the distant light that exudes the rays of success.

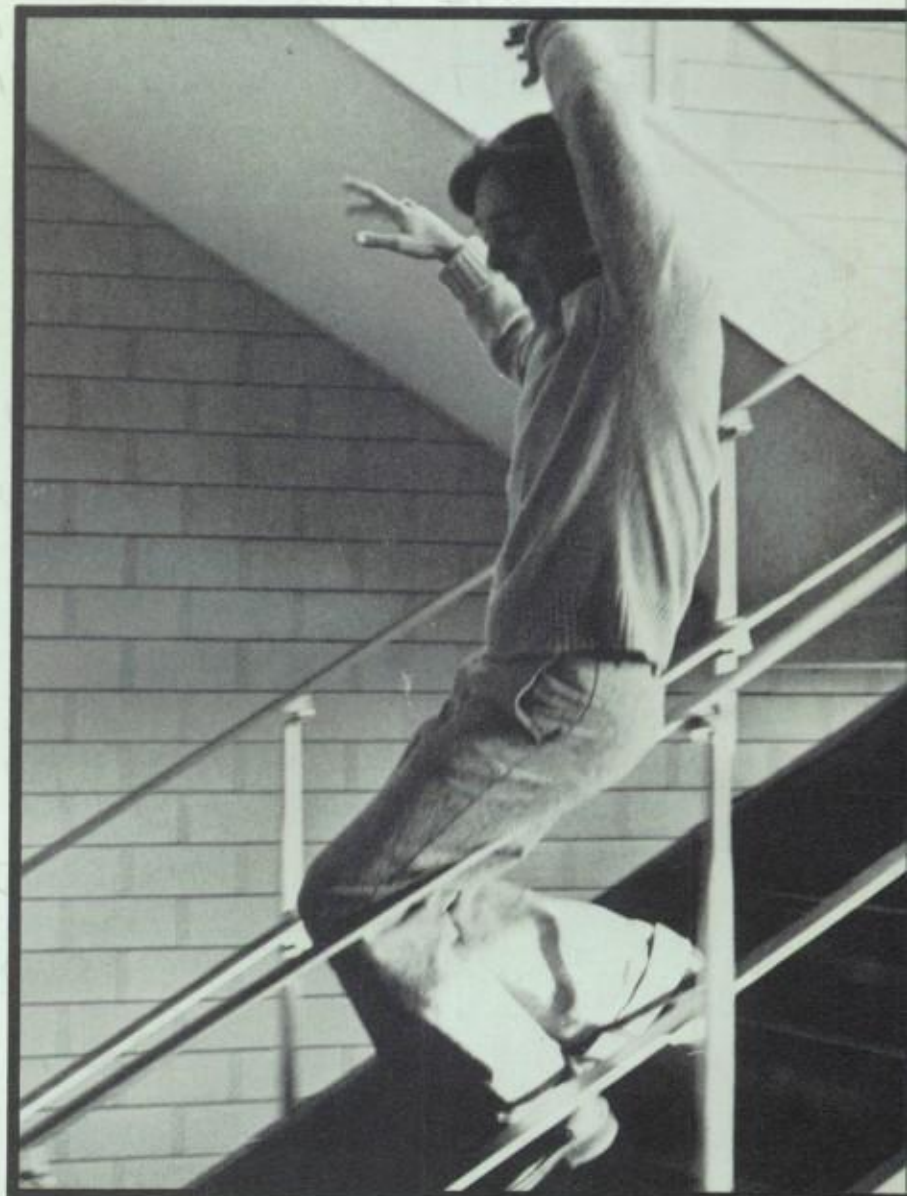

GOING PLACES

A bell rings and instantaneously stimulates a conditioned response. Walking, talking, shuffling, hustling, struttin', truckin'; 2,500 trainees subconsciously transport themselves to a prescheduled destination . . .

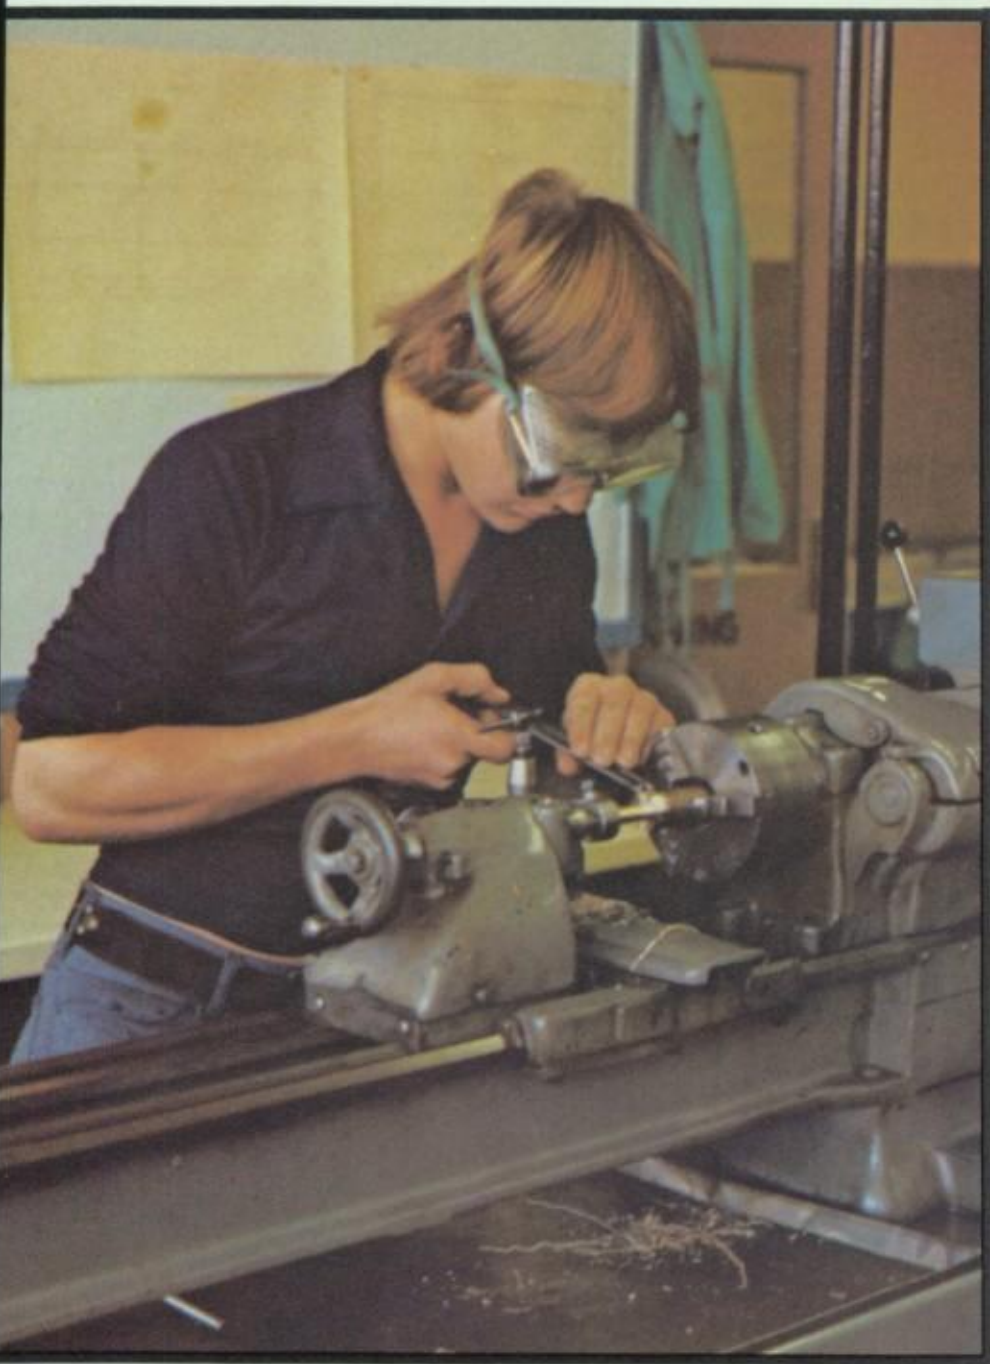

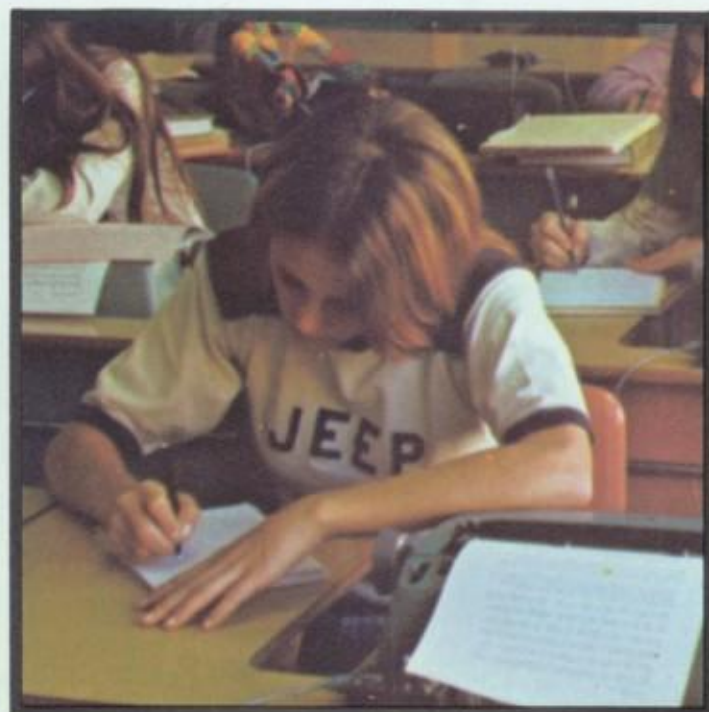

DOING THINGS

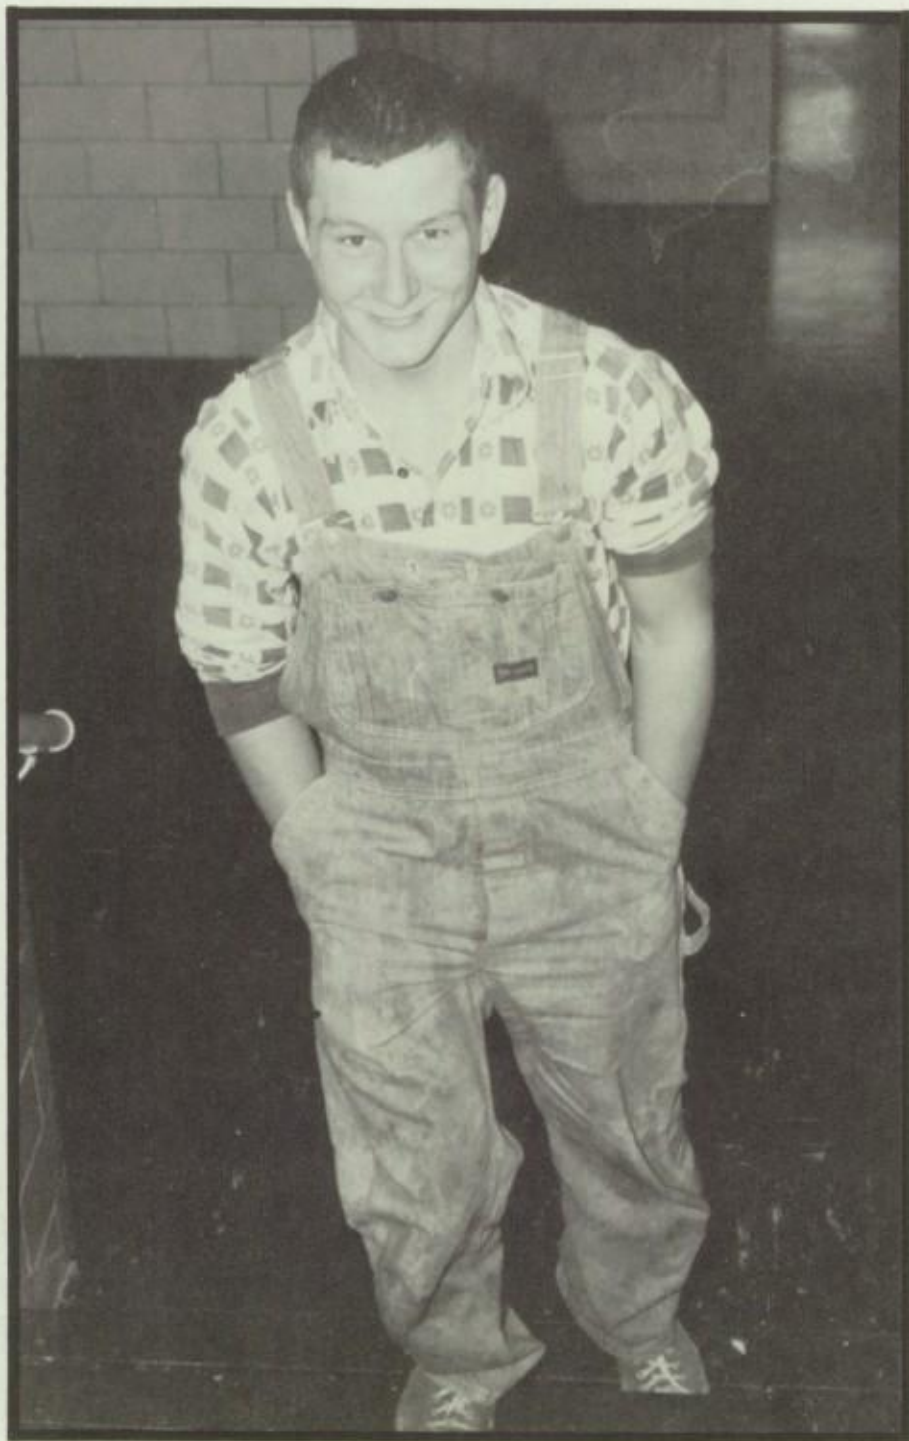

. . . A class, a club, an assembly, a game — each providing valuable opportunities for expression of the individual. For those who neglect these opportunities come the spoils of apathetic uniformity. Yet, for those who apply themselves come the rewards of a satisfying uniqueness.

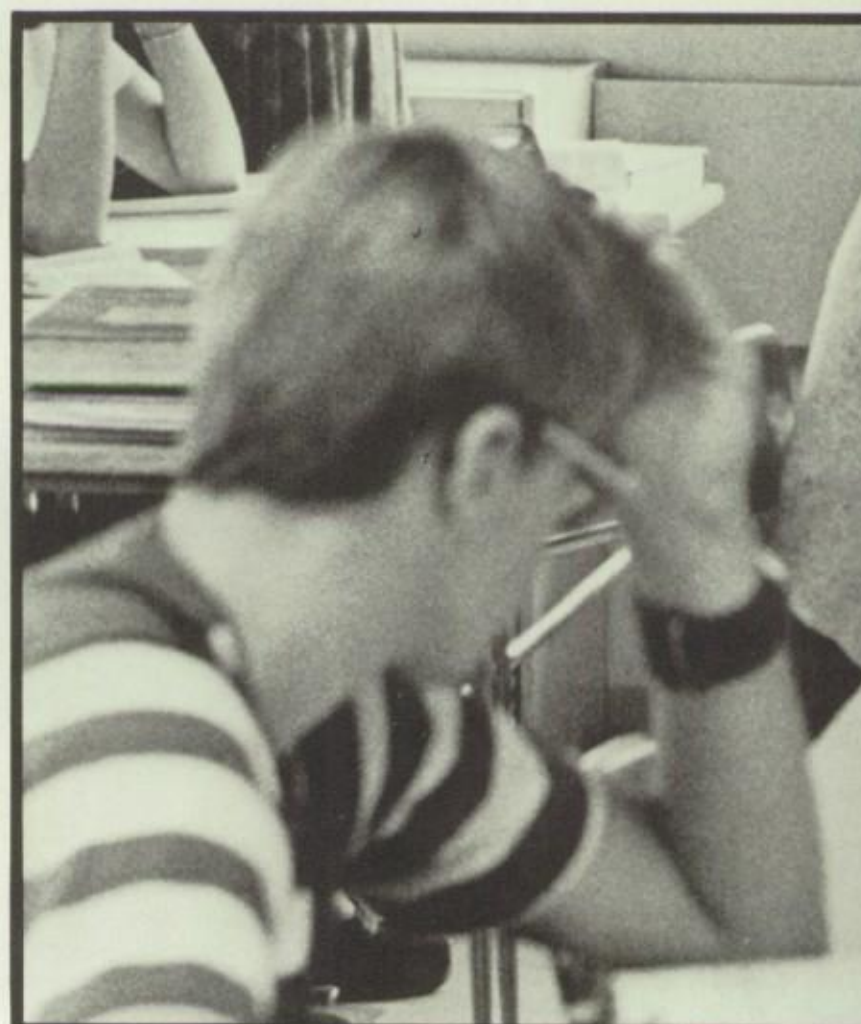

8.5.80-08

SOLITUDE . . .

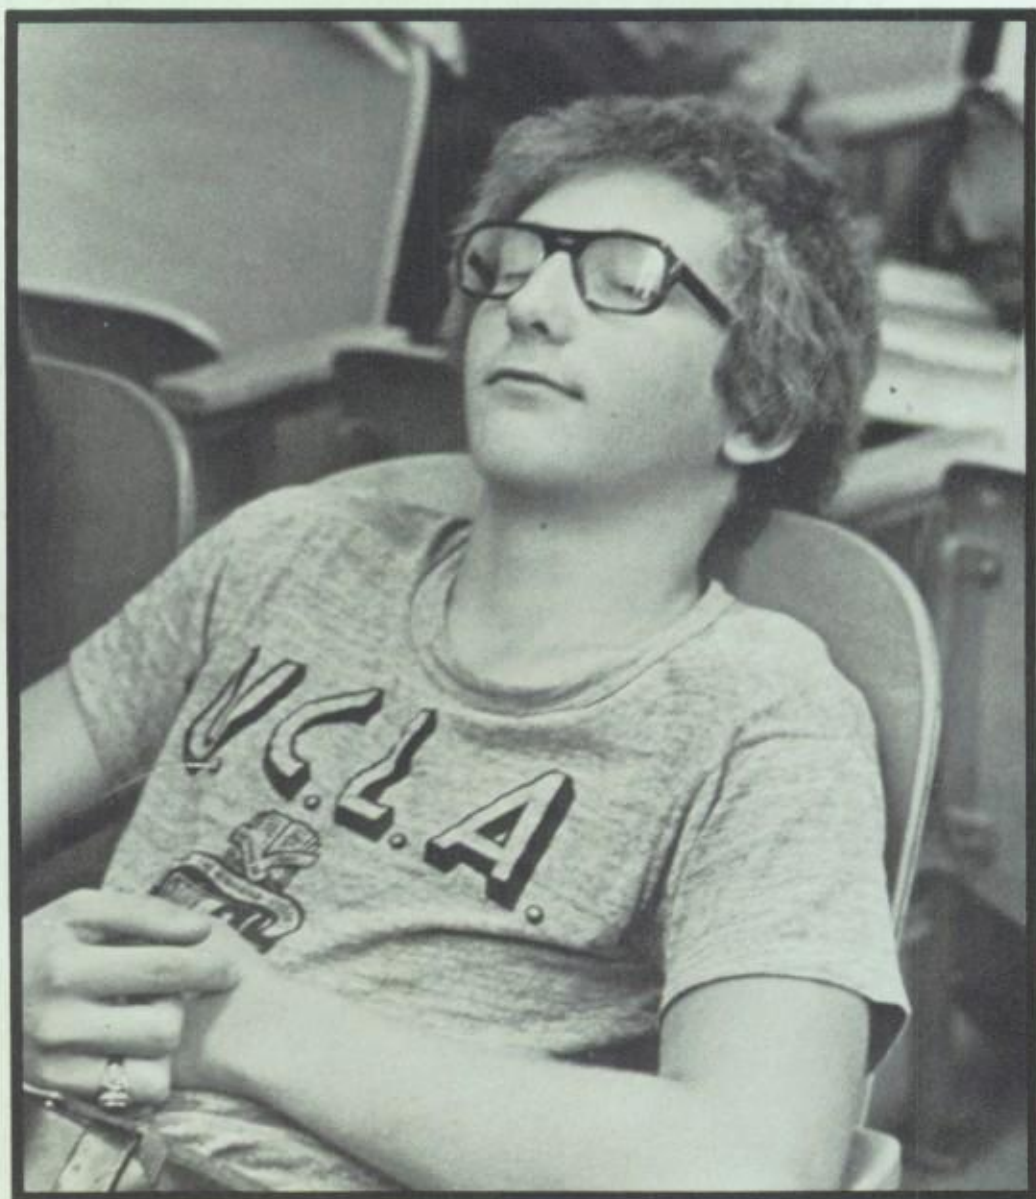

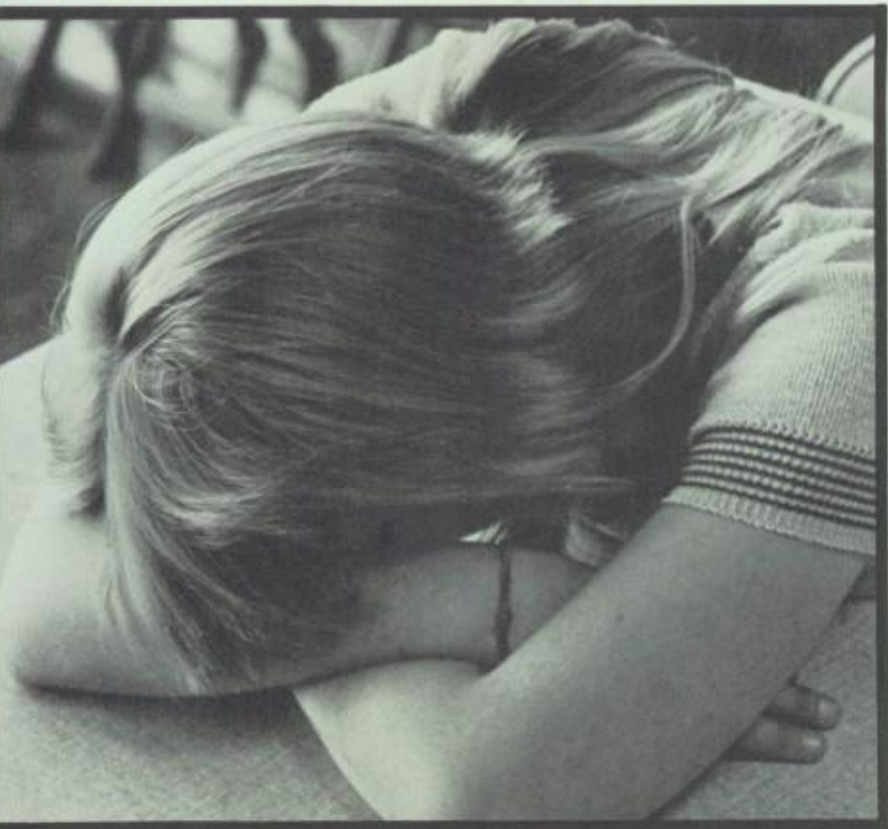

THINKING

DAYDREAMING

OH REALLY?

We, the yearbook staff, would like to introduce a friend of ours. We discovered this little fellow hidden away in a drawer of the filing cabinet in the yearbook office. Although he didn't give us his name, (he's very shy) he did agree to appear in our book this year. We'd like to dedicate this section to our "little Spartan."

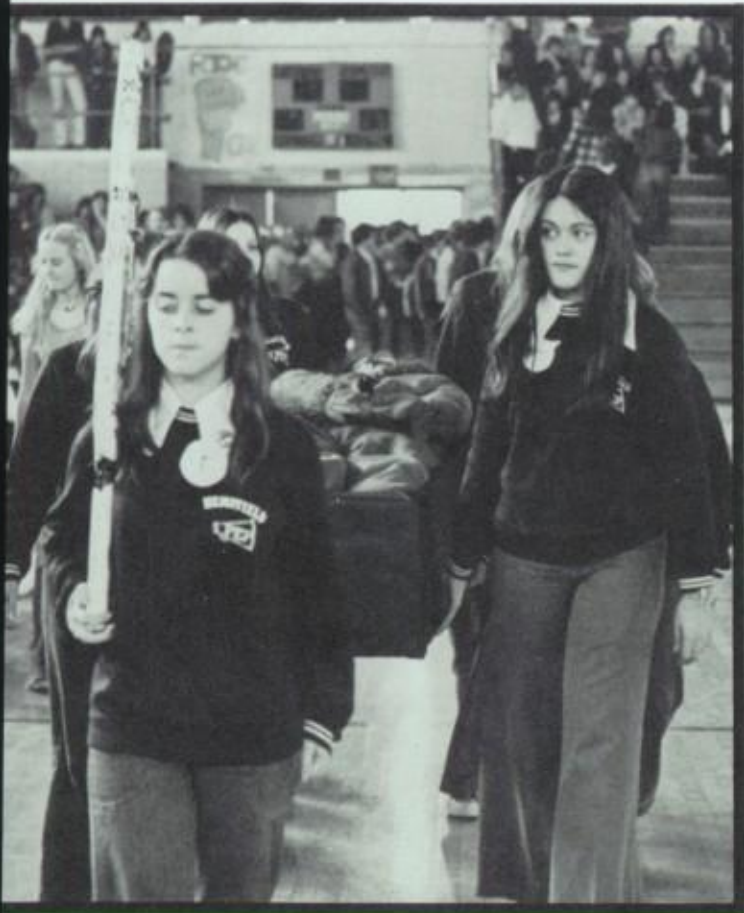

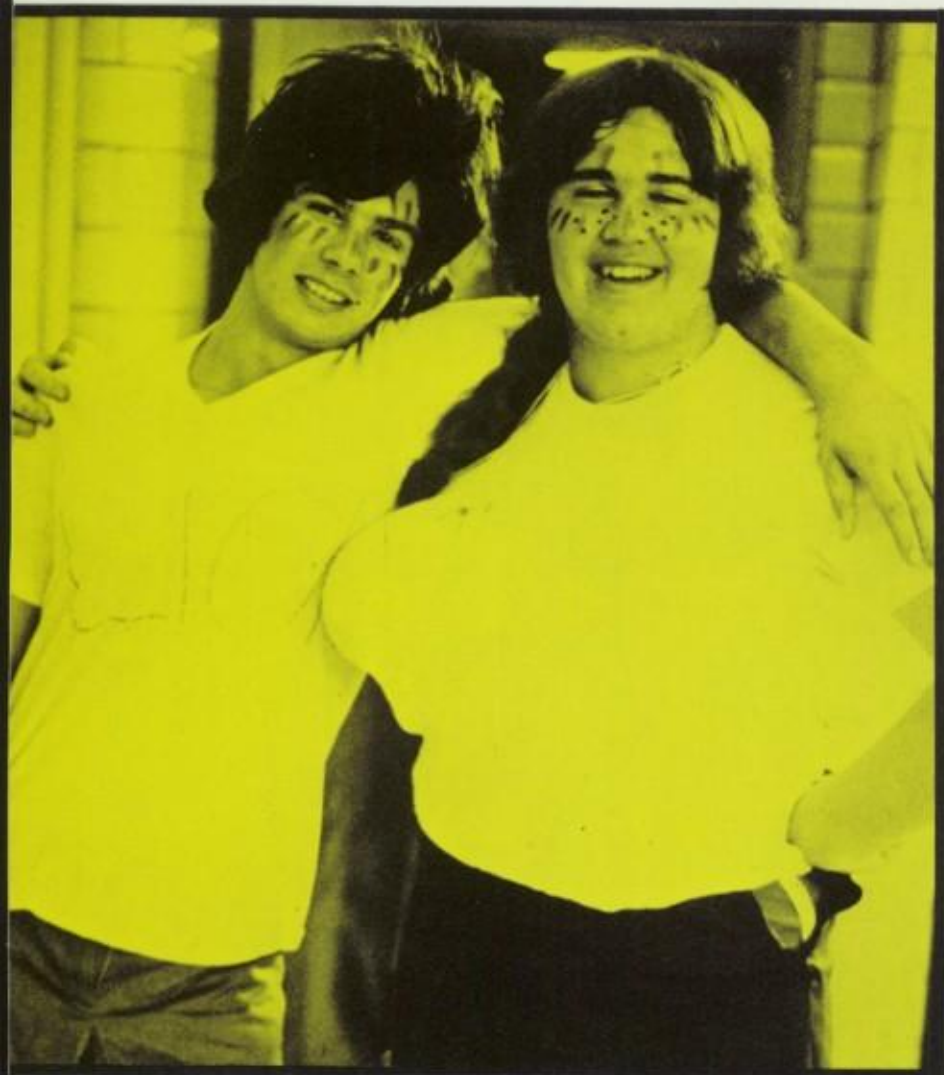

SPIRIT

"Who are they? Greensburg cheerleaders?" No! They just happen to be one of the most enthusiastic groups Hempfield has ever known. Hempfield pep rallies are quite an event (!?!). Cheering crowds, screaming seniors, jumping juniors, and silent sophomores! And what about those strange people in hats? They, too, help to add to the contagious atmosphere of SPIRIT.

SHARING EXPERIENCES

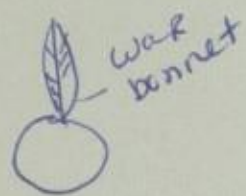

LAUGHING

UNDERSTANDING

Well Mikki, what can I say?
It's really been fun having you in homeroom (I've got the bruises to prove it!) Only 1 more year to go - Can you believe it? Don't forget the things that me & Pam did to your locker - esp the taped books, I thought that was pretty funny. Have a fantastic Summer Mikki
I know you will except

"I'm a senior," I said, never bothering to think what that meant. For twelve years now, I've waited for '75 — a time when I can leave this all behind. Soon I'll be free to do whatever I please — no more homework, and teachers, and things I don't need.

No more waiting in lines for something to eat, no more Spanish or French or English to read. Won't need any hall passes, excuses or chores. And on the last day I can walk out that door free and easy with places to see.

No more "Hurray for Spartans" or "Go Team" for me! "I'm a senior," I said, and took a peek outside. Society was out there, fresh and alive. Busy, bustling, enormous, and real; with people hurting and pressing, and too hard to feel. All bound with their jobs, and their kids, and their homes, their cars and their bars, their wars and their shows. Society is out there, it's plain for me to see, while that lone peek sent chills all through me.

"I'm a senior," I said, quickly shutting the door, with friends here to love, to learn from, and much more. But, somehow there are things here I never noticed before — good times, school spirit, opportunity's door!

What will I do when it's time to leave — where will I go — whom do I seek? All of these questions now scare me, I think!

"I'm a senior," I said, never wishing to speak.

Every fall at the beginning of school, a kind of hushed excitement sweeps through the halls of Hempfield to be climaxed on the first Friday night of football season. Everyone is alive, with posters, locker signs, pep rallies, blue and white, and the talk of the opening game. Now, this isn't just any football game, mind you. It's Spartan football, and they're back for another shot at the coveted WPIAL crown. Only one problem! The first Friday never is. Latrobe, our would-have-been opponent, was involved in a teachers' strike. So Hempfield agreed to postpone the game until Saturday or Monday night pending an agreement by the Latrobe school board. Saturday came, the strike still wasn't settled. Ultimately, the Wildcats were forced to forfeit to Hempfield. Two weeks later our Spartans earned their first big victory by defeating a highly regarded Johnstown team. This was just the beginning. As the victories piled up, everyone began awaiting D-Day, October 11. Hempfield was 4-1 and a contender in the Foothills race. That night they were to face a tough Kiski Area team that would decide it all. Remember . . . Kim Skillings running 42 yards for Hempfield's opening TD . . . Kiski's safety on a bad Spartan snap . . . Hempfield scoring again, to lead 14-9 at the half . . . Mark Harner's long pass to Dave Brajdic, putting HAHS ahead 20-17 with two minutes left . . . and most of all, the 32 yard field goal with seconds to go by Kiski, which left Spartan Stadium in total silence, and the score 20-20. October 11 was perhaps the second most significant day within the last three years of Spartan football — the first, of course, being the 1973 victory over Greensburg's Foothills champs. Even though our Spartans lost the next three games in disappointing fashion, they still had the pleasant memory of stopping Kiski in a way that no other Spartan team has done for eight years. Special recognition: Dan Noble, senior, Big 33 nominee; Mark Harner, senior, first team, All Foothills Conference Defensive Team; John Kemerer, senior, Honorable Mention All Foothills Conference Offensive Team; Larry DiBagno, senior, Honorable Mention All Foothills Conference Offensive Team; Dave Brajdic, junior, Honorable Mention All Foothills Conference Offensive Team.

The girls' basketball team, in its fifth season at Hempfield, began with a disappointing start, although the girls played a hustling game. After orientation in actual games, the team came back to try and correct the slump. They won a spot in the divisional playoffs and beat Latrobe in a consolation game to finish with a strong 8-4 record. The number of games won next year is hoped to increase because of the junior high programs. Although most of the starters will be returning next year, the team will be missing three top players: Linda Bianchi, the consistent high scorer, Celeste D'Antonio, the top defensive player and No. 1 rebounder, and Terry DeFloria, another important asset. Miss Hall and Miss Repasky, coaches, said that the girls worked very hard this year and deserved much recognition for their efforts. They would like to see a lot more spectators at next year's games to cheer the girls on to victory.

"Spartans Will Shine on Victory #9;" "Good luck Billwê, Han, Buggski, Irski, and Swede;" "Our Guy Pie Day," and "Support No. 1 Week" were all a great part of the "new scene" at Hempfield this winter. A group of dedicated guys, all led by a determined man, undefeated as a JV team two years ago, and present holders of the best season record in Central Westmoreland make up this scene. What exactly is the "new scene?" Basketball! One may ask, "Haven't we always had basketball at Hempfield?" Yes, basketball has always existed here but never as it has this year. Our Spartans scored victory after victory, are unbeaten at home, have a present 16-4 record, a half-game lead in Section 2A, and are led by Tom "Pie" Traynor, section coach-of-the-year in 1972. The starting five includes Ed Buggs (who scored 31 pts. against Jeannette), Bruce Irwin (who scored 33 pts. against Penn-Trafford), Doug Waszo, Bill Carlson, and Mark Harner. Season highlights include a 96 pt. game (tied record of most pts. in one game) against Derry Area on opening night, an 18 point romp over bitter-rival Jeannette, and a win at tough Latrobe to take first place in the section. Our JV squad, under Coach Gene Waitkus, posted a 11 won, 10 lost record during the season.

From the beginning of September to the end of October the Girls' Swim Team spent its time after school, in the pool, practicing specific strokes and improving techniques. Kicks, pulls, turns, dives, and sprints were among the skills being perfected. Often, the team averaged over 50 lengths per girl in a single practice session — certainly a test of endurance and a probe into the earnestness of each girl to reach the maximum of her potential. This past fall the team had been credited with additional talented swimmers who cooperated with the veterans in strengthening the team's performance. The fine turnouts for the home meets were consistent, but the spectators' dwindling enthusiasm did little to inspire the team. Despite frequent, disappointing losses, the girls continued with concentrated efforts, devoted practices, and high spirits. They took pride in knowing they did their best and had the self-satisfaction of being fit to endure the mental pressure and physical strain. The devotion of the Girls' Swim Team will always be a respected contribution to Hempfield athletics.

The 1974-75 swim team was successful due to Coach Albright and all the members of the team. Five returning lettermen contributed to the season record of 7 wins and 5 losses. The team was plagued by swimmer's ear (an ear infection) early in the season but managed to produce a winning record. When Andy Roth, Bob Hogue, Rob Sheehan, Tim Gilchrest, and Rich Bernstein get fired up, the pool becomes an exciting place. Roth set new school records in the 50, 100, and 500-yard freestyle. Sheehan and Hogue battled all season for first in the 100-yard breaststroke and 200-yard individual medley. Overall, the members of the team enjoyed the season. They had a new coach, who inspired the team to work up to its greatest potential. The Spartan swimmers placed fifth in Section III competition and ninth in the Westmoreland County meet.

This year's version of girls' tennis was a vastly improved and spirited team which drove home a 9-7 overall record for the season. Practice began in the August heat with technique and game skills being reviewed. The Spring tennis clinic held by Coach Mansmann brought out more participants and helped to review basic fundamentals of the game. Bridgit Borton, our foreign exchange student, was on the team and proved to be a top singles player throughout the season. The season was climaxed by a 3-2 all-senior victory over Latrobe for a third place finish in section play. Quite an improvement over last year's 1-11 record.

Since its inception in 1957, Hempfield Area track and field teams have been among the best in Westmoreland County, having amassed an overall record of 127 wins and 17 losses, 8 undefeated seasons, 9 nine county champion teams, and a long list of individual state and county champions. Last year's Spartan track team registered one of those undefeated seasons and reigned as county champions at the end of the year. This year's squad boasts a nucleus of 14 returning lettermen.

Starting early in March, Spartan cindermen begin the long, grueling, but always productive pre-season practice which will hopefully produce another successful season and possibly another county championship. It is during this time that Coaches Steeley and Colland begin their search for those who will compete in the 17 events that comprise a track meet.

Probably the most important motivating force that causes a trackster to want to excel is personal pride in achieving personal goals, since track, unfortunately, draws few spectators on the local level. Although track is a team sport, it is the product of many individual efforts on the part of the competitors.

Although this year's cross country team did not make it as far as the WPIAL finals, it nevertheless achieved a respectable, if not fine, record in the season's dual-meet competition. While they placed sixth in the "A" Qualifier, thus failing to qualify for competition in the WPIAL finals, the Spartans still brought back a dual meet record of 7-3-1 to HAHS and to Mr. Ronald Colland, coach. The team showed off its talent as the runners achieved a second place in the county meet, succumbing to the champion Norwin, yet still our Spartans placed three runners in the top ten. In sixth place was Doug Jenkins, with Wilber Herman following in eighth place, and Karl Hoffman rounding it out in the tenth position. In other special meets, the Spartan team returned from the Father Geibel invitational with third and seventh places scored by Willy Brown and Karl Hoffman and a third place trophy by virtue of the loss to the champion Norwin, and the host school. An overview of this year's season shows definite improvement and prospects for better and bigger things to come next year.

GOLF..

Golf is no new sport at Hempfield. In fact, it's been around for 17 years! Unfortunately, the last seven of those years were spent in the shadows of a full fall sports schedule. Also, since the sport of golf is one of individuality, it is not as recognized as other team sports. But have no fear Jack Nicklaus lovers, for Hempfield has scored another first this season. While the rest of the fall sports teams were simply filing through their schedules, our golfers took the time out to produce a 9-1 season, dethroning Latrobe from its five year dominance as section champ. Spartan star Jeff Lawson qualified to compete in the Regional Tournament. Think about it! All along, most everyone thought of golf as practically nonexistent and Arnold Palmer simply a fairytale figure. Not so fellow students. In fact, as far as Arnold Palmer is concerned, Hempfield has the next best thing — a section winner!

WRESTLING

Wrestling is thought to be the oldest sport known to man. It is a contact sport that has always required skilled independence and has placed intensified pressure on the individual. Facing his opponent on a one-to-one basis, the wrestler must cunningly utilize familiar maneuvers in an attempt to score a pin. If he is victorious, he adds to his team's chances for victory and is a credit to the team. The 74-75 team earned its share of victories and was certainly a credit to the sport. The team's fine overall performance was the result of extensive practice sessions which began November 12. The dedication of every wrestler was tested at each of these sessions, which consisted of vigorous exercises, contests, and endurance drills. Coach Ron Park, who has been with the HAHS coaching staff for two years, achieved his 100th coaching win against Burrell in the opening match of the season. Park was especially pleased with his team's performance in the County Tournament this year. The Spartans place fifth out of fifteen teams. The entire team put forth a commendable total effort and produced some exceptional wrestlers: Freshman Feron Stanford, County Champion at 91; Phil Canale, runnerup at 132; Mark Zimmerman, runnerup at 155; Tim Crossman, third place at 105; John Campoli, Fourth place at 138. The increased number of student spectators added to the spirit at the matches. Our Spartan wrestlers and fans were proud of our team and look forward to an equally exciting season next year.

at sets the rifle team apart from all other sports teams at Hemp-d? Besides the fact that the members must have keen eyesight, dy arms, and pinpoint precision, it's the only team to include nen in its membership. This year, Kim Beehner represented her as the only girl in Coach Jack Parry's "Nice bunch of lousy pters." Perhaps the use of this phrase had some justification at beginning of the season, but Parry's twelve sharpshooters ked up in the second half of competition, after a depressing first record of 1 and 4. Despite the fact that the team suffered two es to powerful Kiski, the first-half winner, our Spartans went on eat Latrobe, the leader in the second half of competition. With the Spartans started their late-season comeback, as they sal-ed their chances for gaining the second half title and ultimately section title.

This spring Coach Glenn Smeltzer will once again swing into action by driving our tennis team toward a repeat of last season's section title success. The team, consisting of 16 guys — 6 seniors, 4 juniors, 5 sophomores, and 1 freshman — will face such stern opposition as Latrobe, Norwin, Franklin, Ligonier, and Greensburg. However, Smeltzer is confident about our performance against these teams because of the return of 2 last-season starters: Don Rumbaugh, who is undefeated in singles, and Howard Solomon. Other returnees include Pat Findle, Randy Beam, Dave Lowry, Kip Melty, Dave Lichter, John Lichter, Mark Flowers, and Tim McCune. It is hopeful that this spring the sun will once again be shining on a Spartan section title.

VOLLEYBALL

"Dig it!" Miss Hall's unique way of expressing her excitement and overjoy in volleyball team that she coaches? Perhaps. But more often than not, the term "dig" is used in reference to one of the many skills, such as bumps, spikes, digs and serves, that the girls must learn and accurately display to make the team. This marks the second year for the team's existence on the increasingly large roster of girls' sports, which now includes tennis, basketball, softball, swimming, and golf as well as volleyball. While last year there were only three other schools with teams to pit against our twenty-four girls, the number increased this year and added even more excitement to the competition, and to girls' sports in general. The creation of the volleyball team has also inspired the addition of even more girls' sports to the Hempfield athletic program, and is at last bringing girls into the sports spotlight along with the boys.

BASEBALL

TURNING LETTERMEN: Mark Genard, Bruce Irwin, Doug Waszo, Doug Orbin.

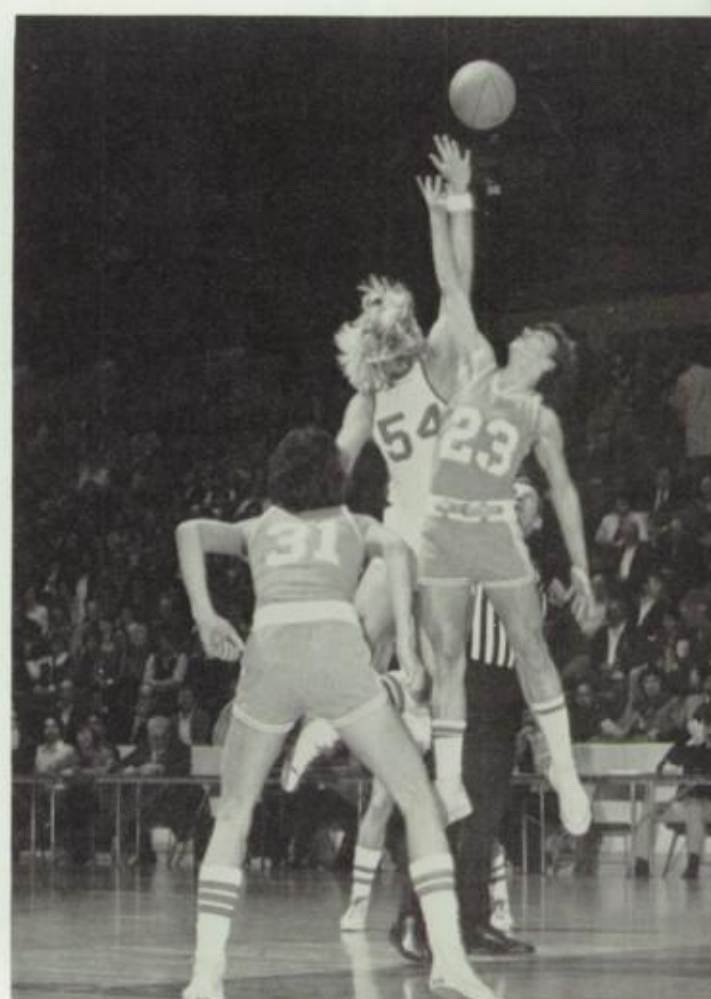

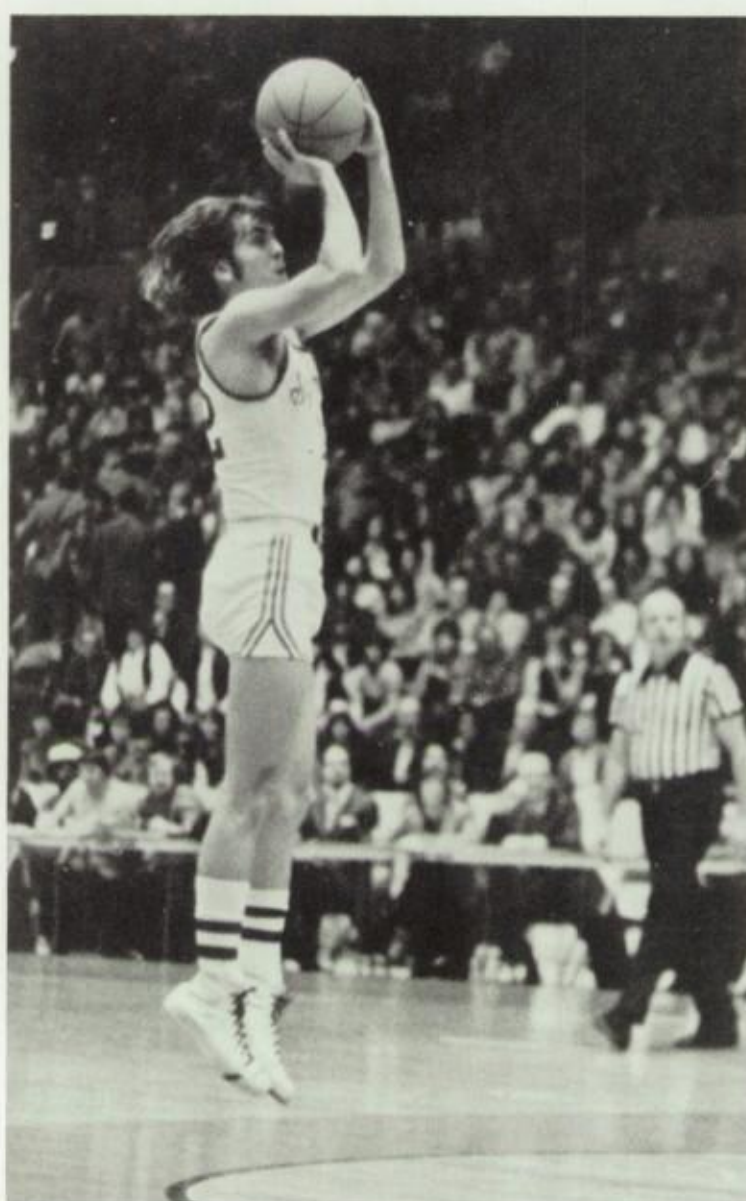

Having lost seven starters from last year's baseball team, the 1975 baseball team will have to depend strongly on the four returning lettermen from which to build a nucleus. The pitching staff suffered heavily from graduation losses with the only returning starter being Doug Waszo, who last year had a record of four wins and one loss. Possible additional pitching strength may come from Ron Park (Junior) and Larry Bompiani (Senior). Park is also expected to start in the infield along with other possible infield starters coming from Mark Harner, Dave Bradjic, Mark Genard, Doug Orbin, Toddquette, and Scott Gillis. The return of Genard and Orbin should make the pitching position fairly strong. The outfield should be fairly strong with the return of Bruce Irwin, Doug Waszo, and Dave Walor, along with the addition of Gary Alcorn. The key to success will be how quickly the younger members mature and how well the team as a whole responds to coaching.

BASKETBALL

The former WPIAL Section 2-A champion Jeannette Jayhawks witnessed the Hempfield Spartans terminate the Jays' four-year reign on Monday, February 24. Our dethroning activists started a slow first half at Charleroi High School's modern gymnasium. Waszo and Buggs scored the bulk of the Spartans' uncomfortable 22-21 halftime lead. Traynor's men took the floor in the third period with an accelerated tempo. Their speed beat the Jays downcourt, leaving little time for them to set up a defense. Bruce Irwin made a major contribution of 12 points in the third period. Hempfield's shooting accuracy increased 29% in the second half, raising the final score to 64-53. The SPARTANS won the crown — long live the kings!

The new Section 2-A Champs made their initial appearance in Pittsburgh's Civic Arena on Thursday, February 27, to start the WPIAL playoff quarterfinals. The Spartans' opposition, the Burrell Bucs, had previously experienced an unexpected one-point victory over Sharon of Section 3-A. The first half of the game was a "topsy-turvy" affair in which the lead switched eight times. The excitement of playing in the spacious "orange igloo" might have been the cause of a shaky first period start. However, Eddie Buggs came through with 12 points to give his team control and a three-point lead at intermission. As in the Jeannette game, the Spartans utilized their famous fast breaks to widen the victory margin in the second half. Buggs was the high scorer with 22 points. The Spartans earned a spot in the PIAA Western Regional playoffs with their 73-55 win because all four teams in the semi-finals qualify for the state tournament.

Everybody loves a winner!

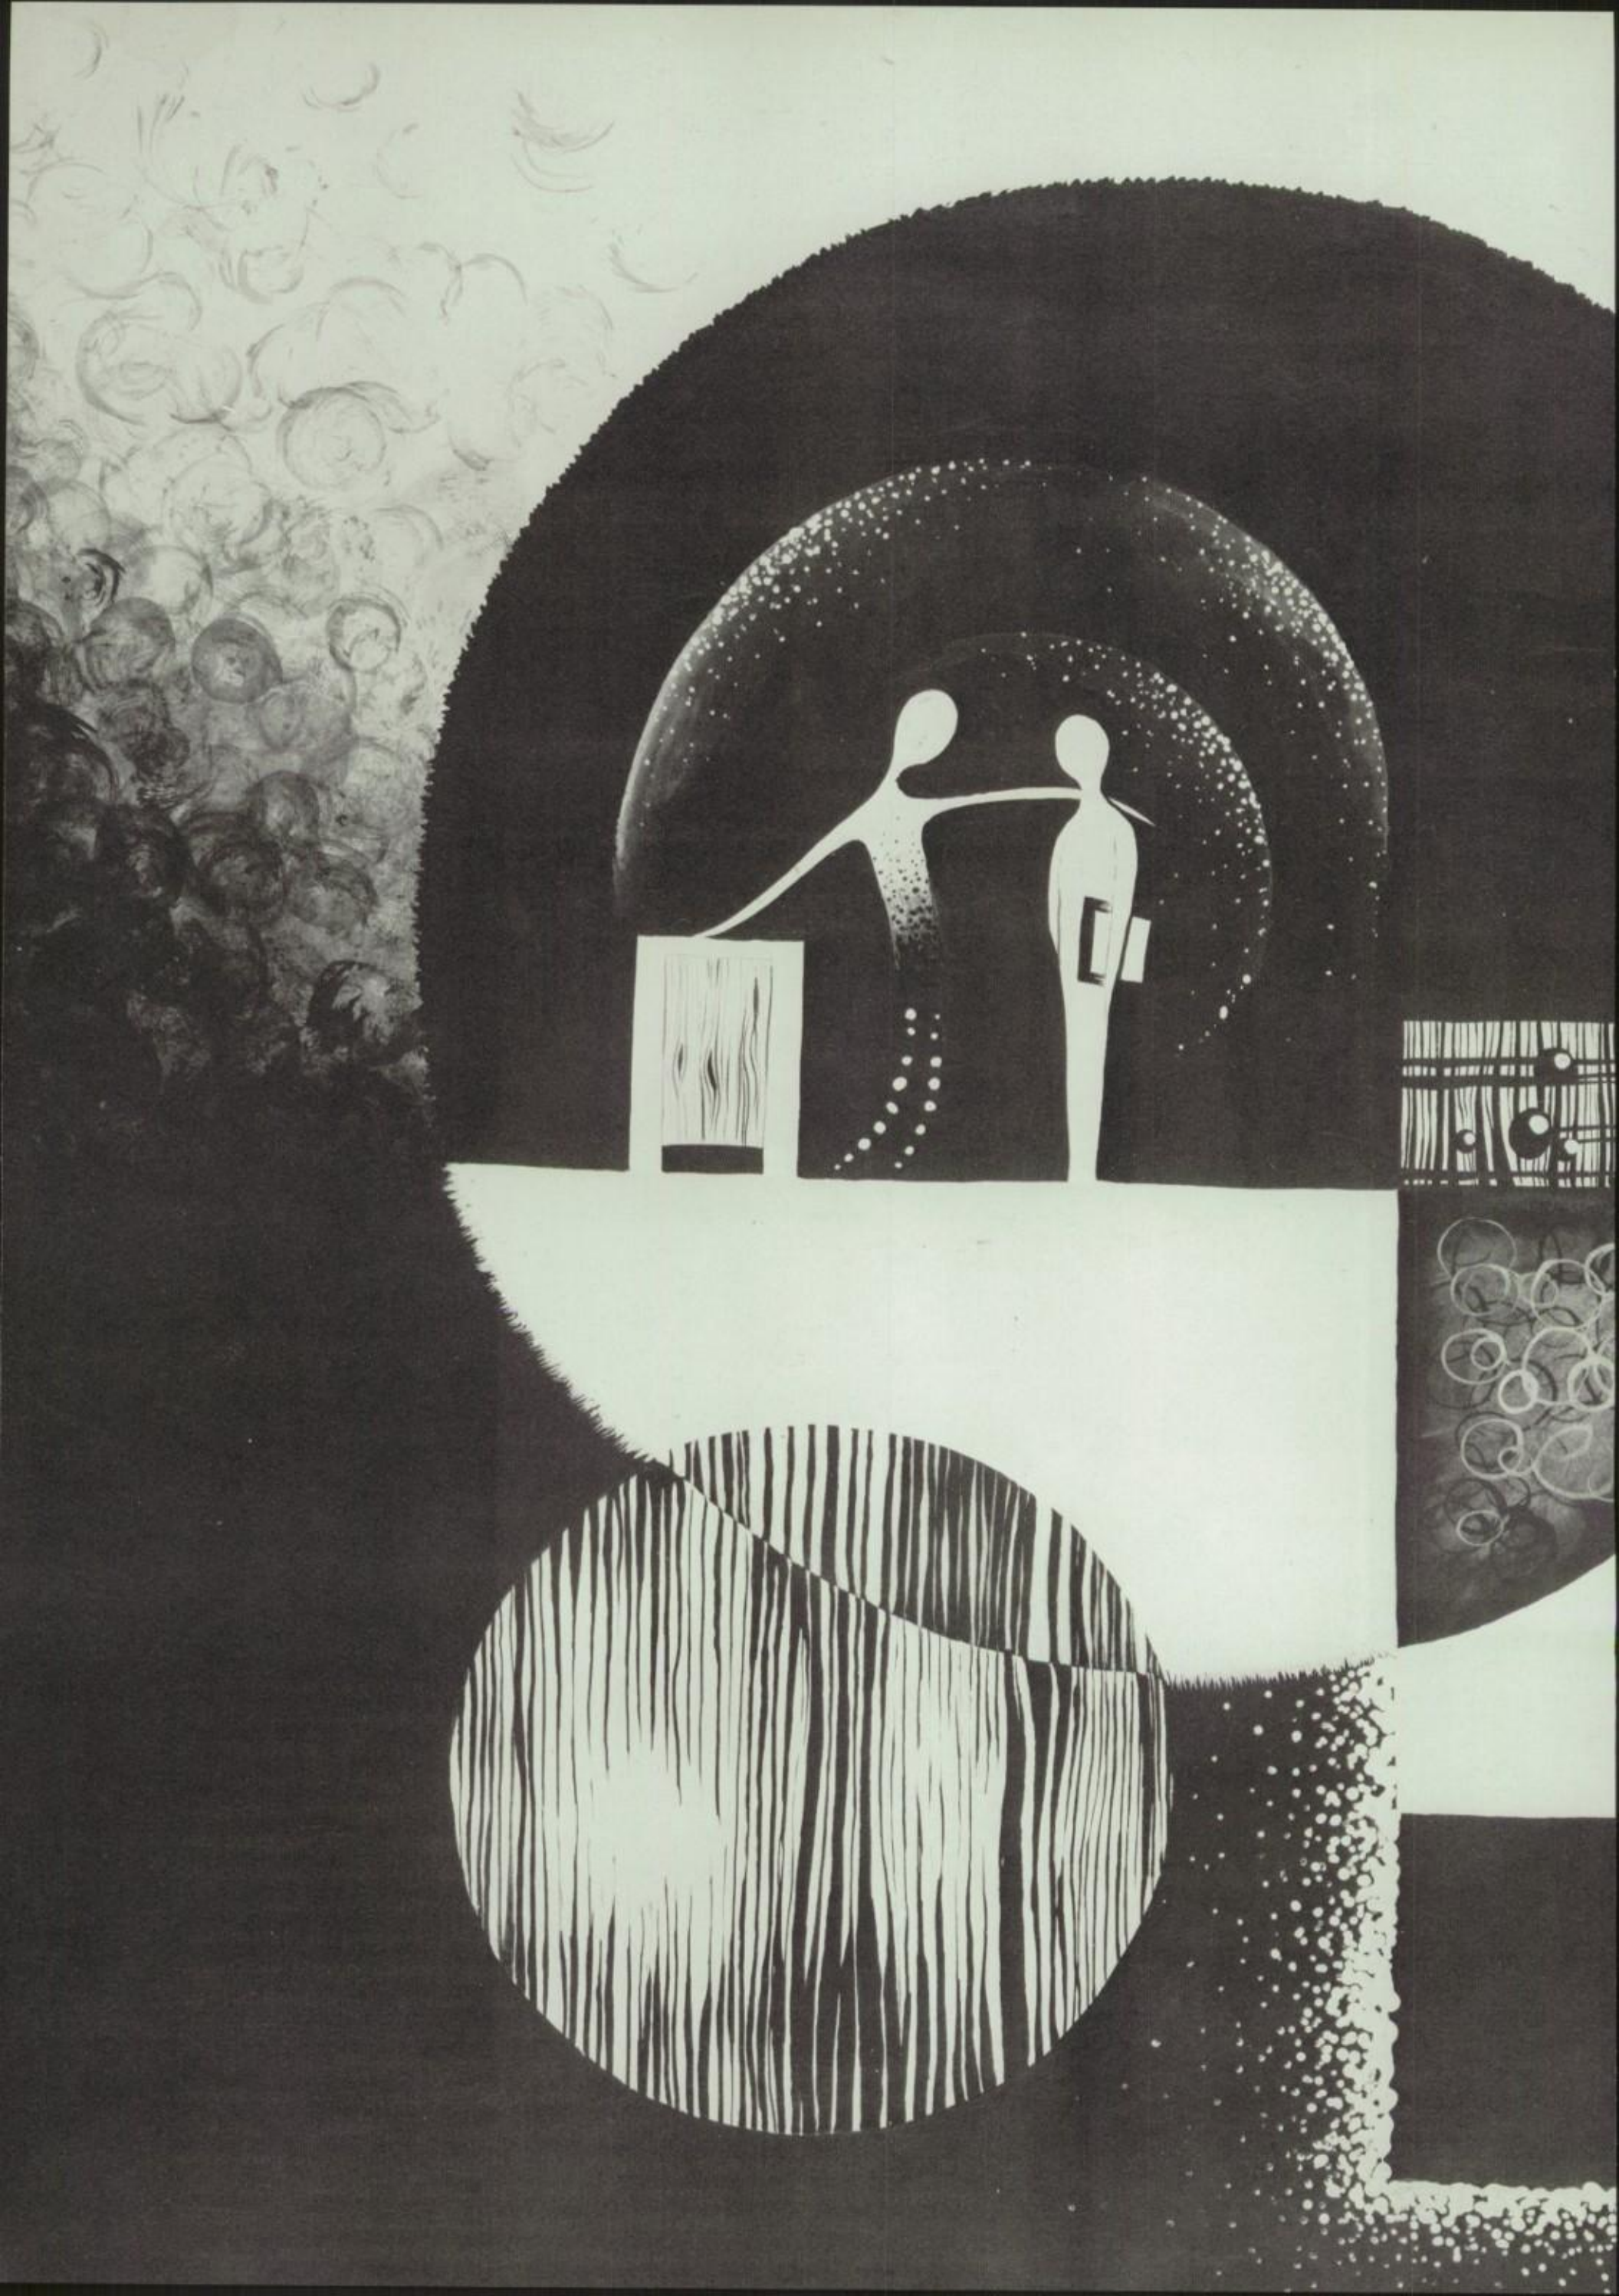

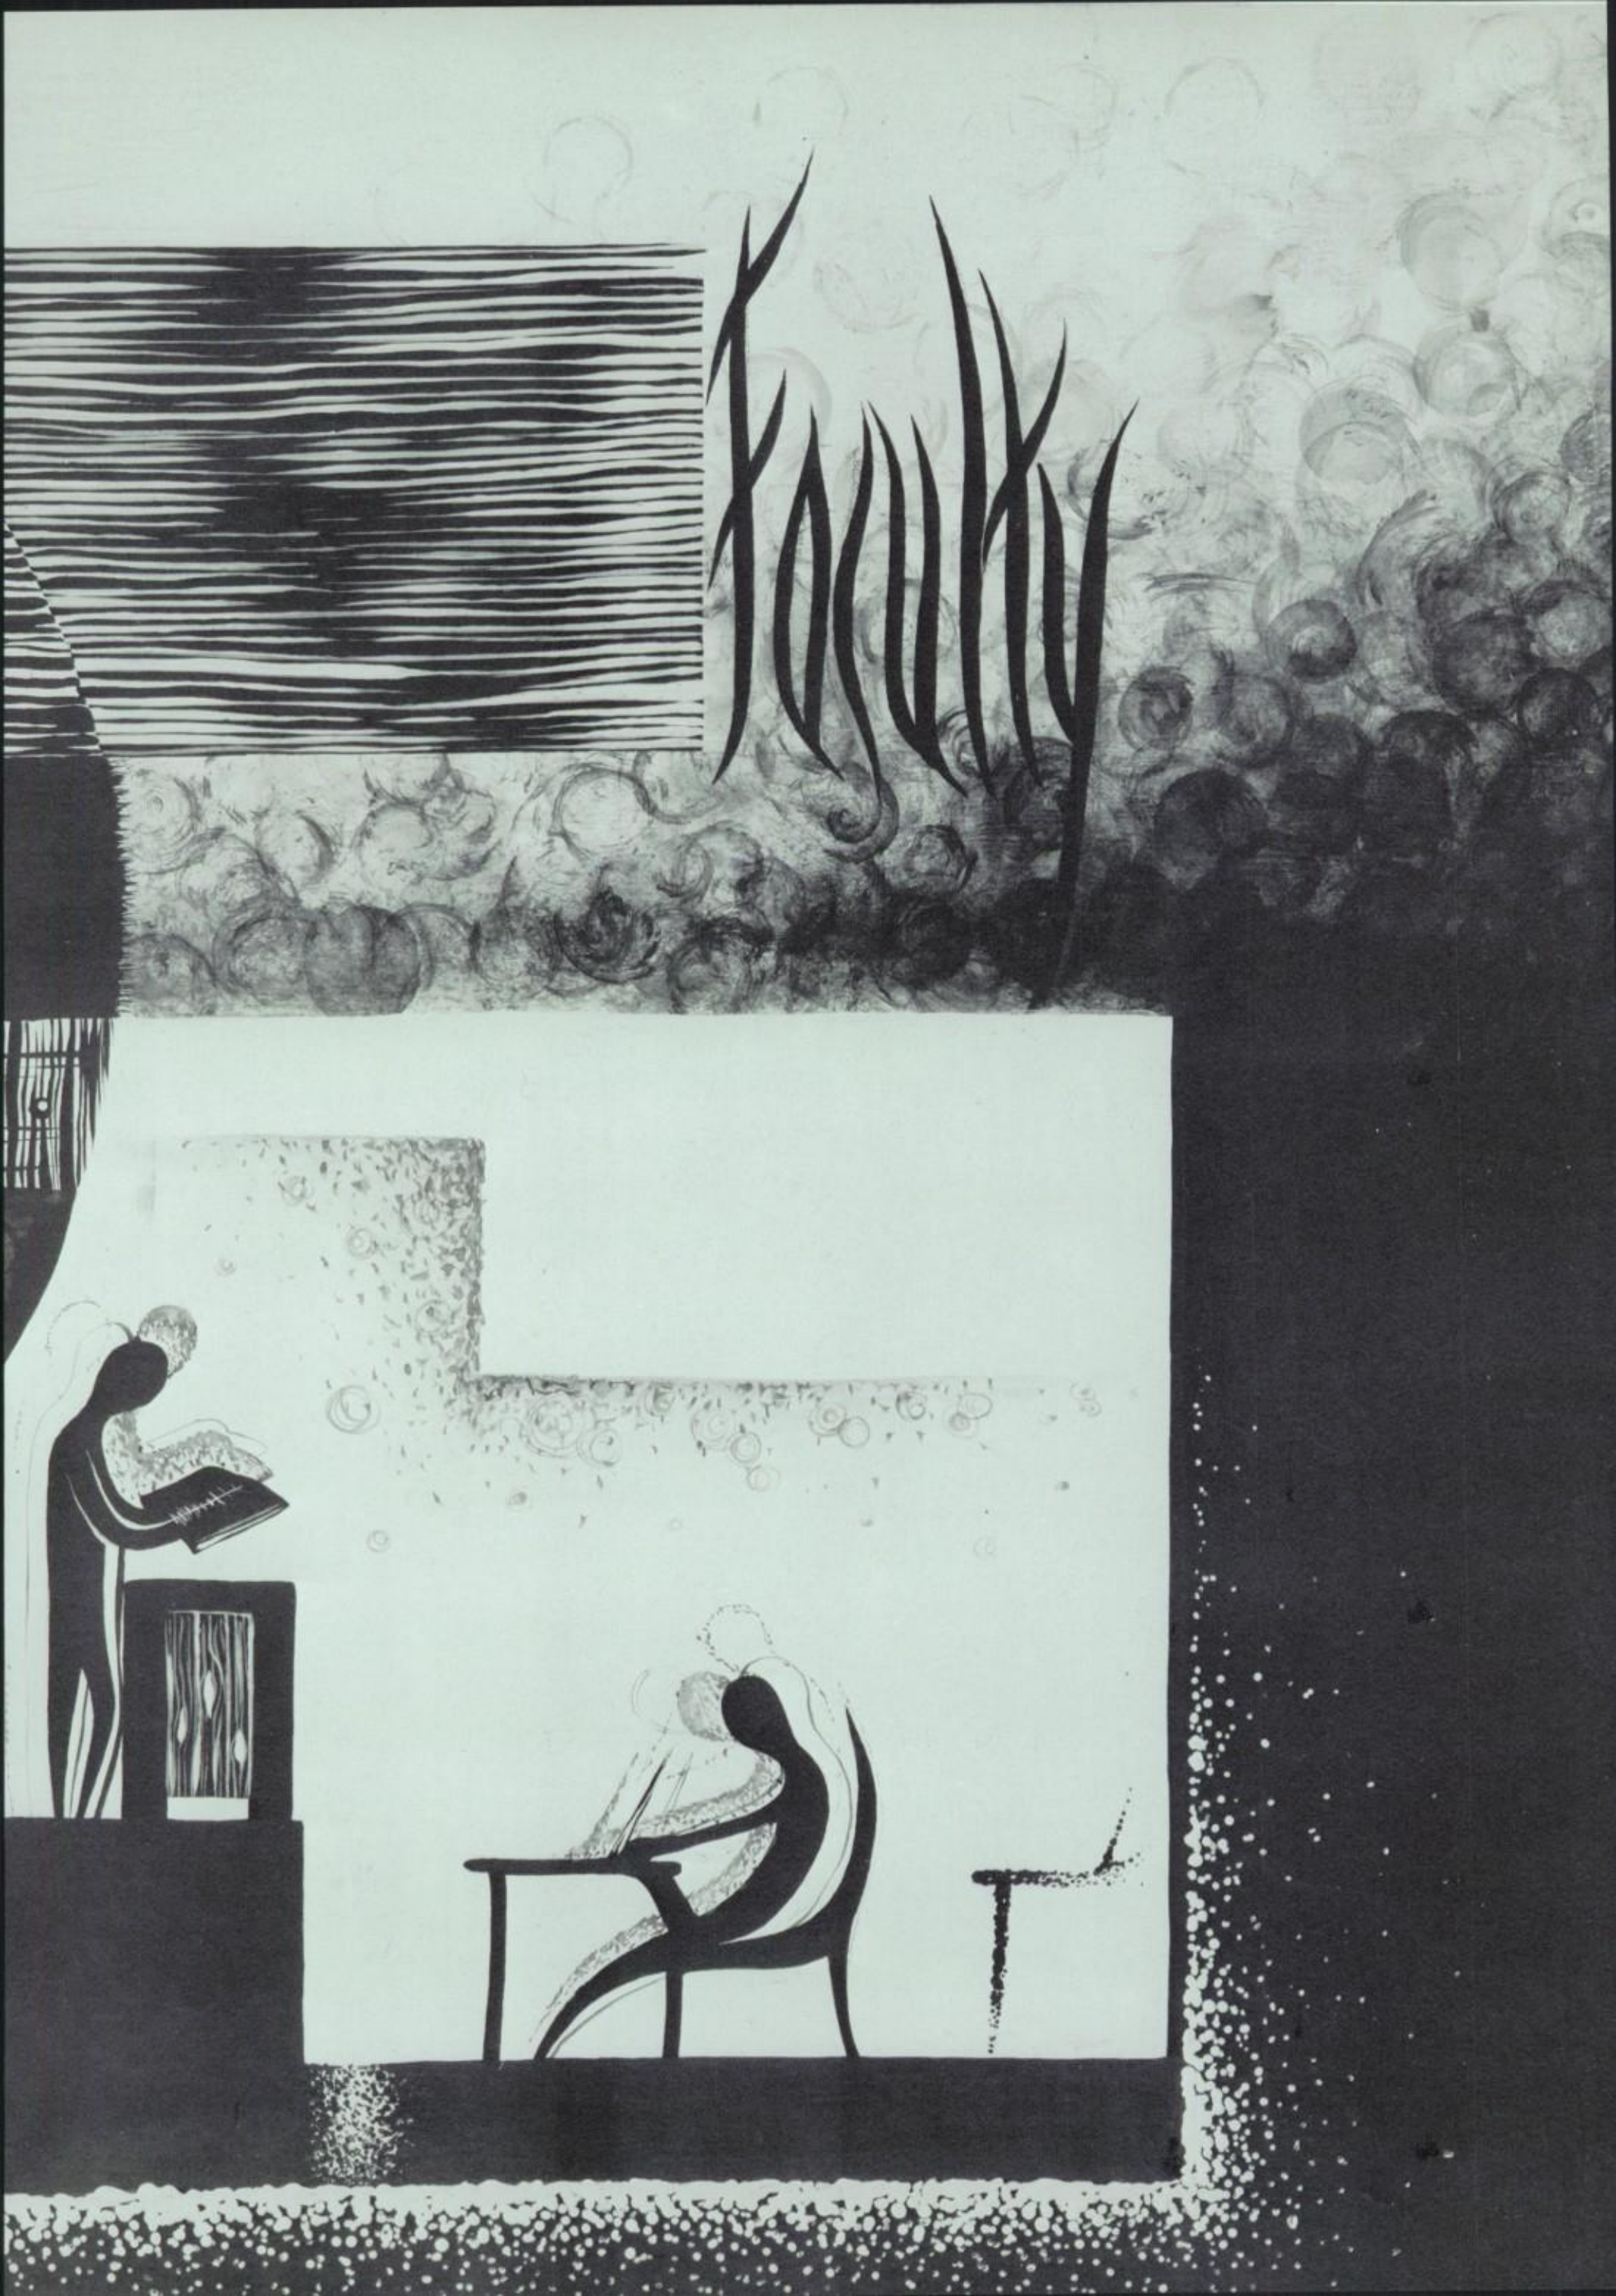

The Spartans faced the Section 9-A Valley Vikings on Monday, March 3, in the Civic Arena. Keeping that same fastbreak tempo that gave them other victories, Hempfield was ahead most of the game. Valley was never ahead in the first two periods, and the Spartans entered halftime with a 35-33 lead. Our talent battled its opponent to the bitter end of the exciting second half. Valley spurred in the closing minutes, taking advantage of our unlucky turnovers and disappointing foul shots. The final score was 70-65. Eddie tore a ligament in his knee that night — our hearts were torn with remorse.

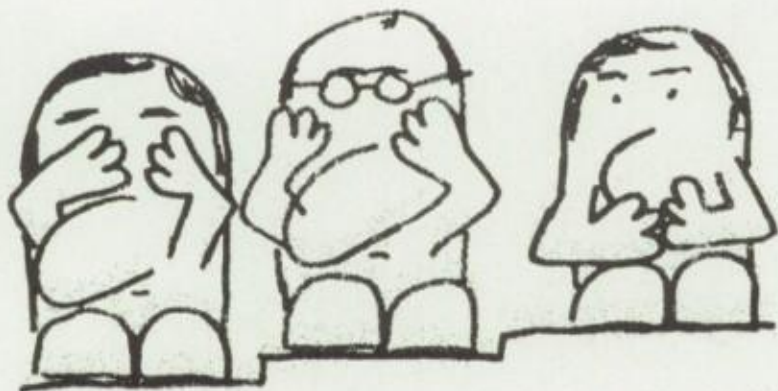

On Wednesday, March 12, at Edinboro State College, Hempfield met some stiff competition from District 10 Champ, Erie Cathedral Prep, in the opening round of the PIAA playoffs. They suffered a humiliating 83-66 defeat the the hands of the sharpshooting Ramblers. Loose ball handling, turnovers, personal fouls, and a recuperating Buggs on the bench all contributed to the Spartans' elimination. The team is aware and regrets the things that went wrong, but we are aware and proud of the many things they did right: A final season record of 19 wins and only 6 losses, The Section 2-A Championship, A fourth place in the WPIAL playoffs.

The announcements are over. It's 8:15. The bell sounds clearly throughout the hallways. Doors open. The halls are filled with thundering footsteps of upperclassmen escaping the confines of homerooms, despite the efforts of the administration. Whether going to a club or athletic meeting or just roaming the halls, activity period is the one time of freedom during their day.

For the sophomores — well until they wise up, homeroom period is their only choice of activity.

"You'll have to wait your turn. My overdue composition has it right now."

"I repeat, these students are to report immediately."

"Hey! Weren't you just called to the office?"

Now how did I misplace that lesson plan?"

"All right class, pass in your timed writings."

"Come now, Sue, all ten of those mistakes can't be labeled 'machine error.' "

"Of course your return key didn't work — that's a manual you're typing on!"

"You must have miscalculated your speed. Two lines of typed copy does not indicate 120 words per minute!"

"I'm sorry, but there's really no excuse for misspelling your reference initials."

"Why did I get an F on my paper? I only made one error."

"Yes, but you overlooked another — you typed the wrong letter."

"Any questions before we begin our theory test?"

"Are we allowed to write the words in longhand first?"

"But don't you think that defeats the purpose of a shorthand test?"

"I just don't think it's fair. I can write longhand a lot faster."

Cafeteria . . .

Anticipating . . . the hot meal just waiting to satisfy your taste buds and ease the stabs of hunger pain in your stomach.

Waiting . . . for what seems to be an interminable length of time, then watching the person ahead of you take the last of the item that you had your heart, and stomach, set upon.

Despairing . . . at buying the same items in the à la carte line as in the Spartan Special and paying almost double.

Laughing . . . in the company of your friends, who provide you with the only relief of the day.

Examining . . . the food before you — trying to figure out if it's tuna or chicken salad.

Tripping . . . on the butter or jello that someone was considerate enough to smear on the floor, as well as the walls.

Boycotting . . . in an attempt to better satisfy students' needs and preferences at lunch time.

Pounding . . . on temperamental milk and ice cream machines which always pick the most opportune times to break down.

Deserting . . . the cafeteria altogether and adjourning to MacDonald's for lunch.

Deciding . . . what's the best buy for your money and the easiest for your stomach.

Sighing . . . with relief as you finally depart from the chaos and confinement of the cafeteria.

CONCERTS

con.cert (kon'surt), n. 1. a musical performance by several voices or instruments or by both. 2. an outlet for self-expression. 3. elimination of assembly skippin'. 4. an escape from the dull routine.

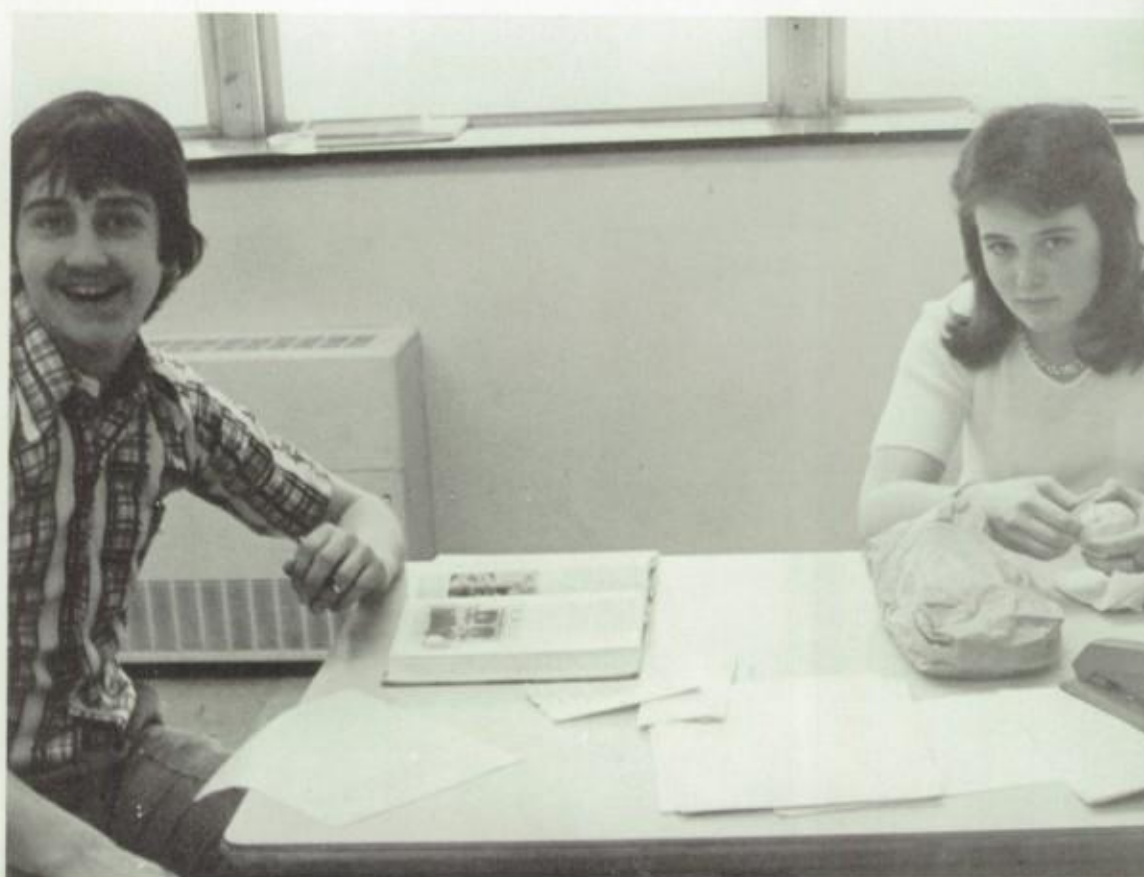

On November 25 Hempfield's student body witnessed its first entertaining double assembly of the year. "It's Getting Late" brought an expressive message to contemporary society through focusing on a young man's continual search for the meaning of life. The professional performances of soloists and narrators added to the students' total enjoyment of the choral presentation. Many students were pleasantly surprised at the involvement of their classmates in this project and left the auditorium half envious but sincerely proud of their talented friends.

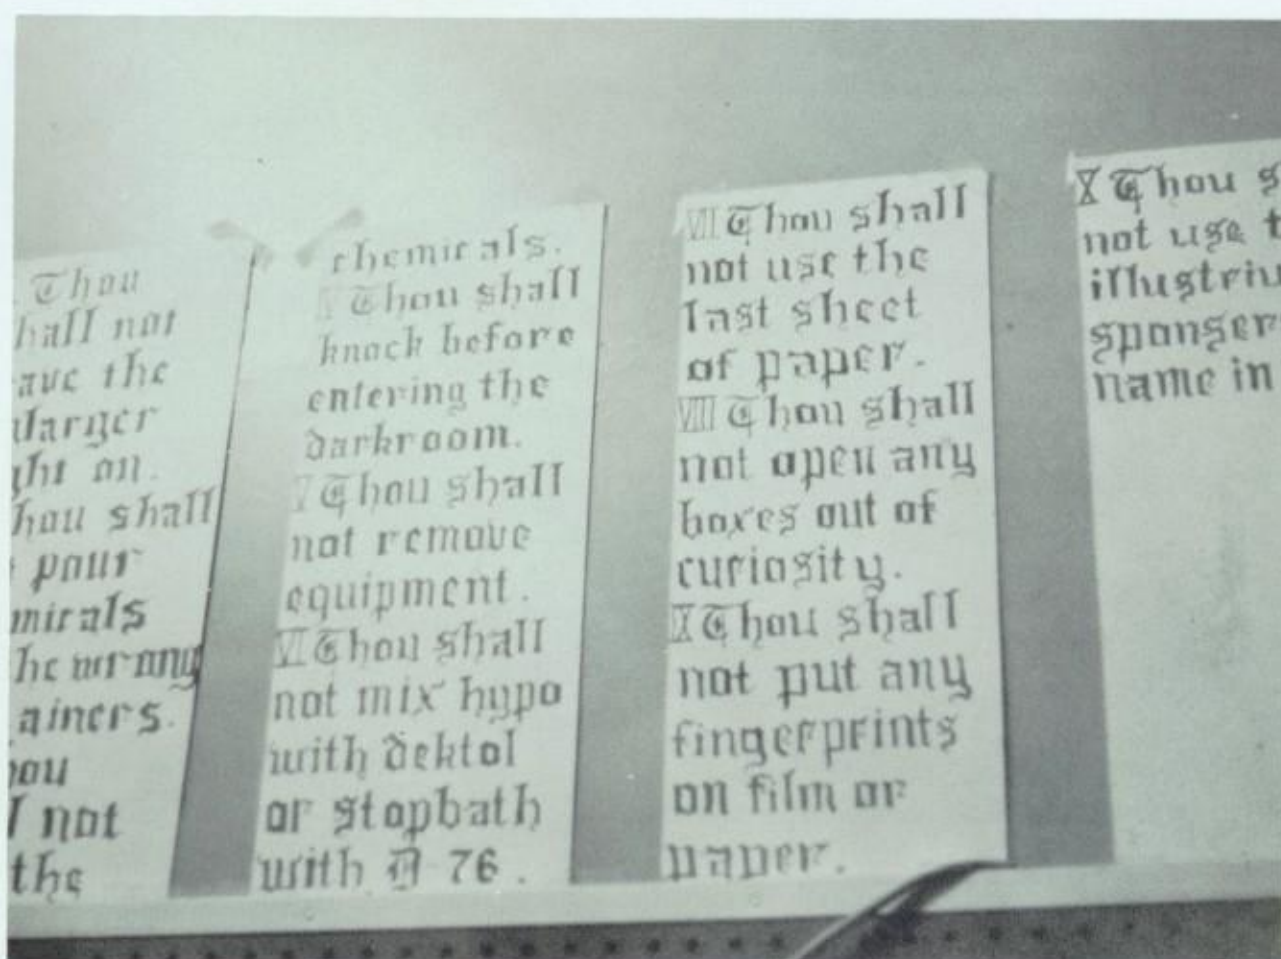

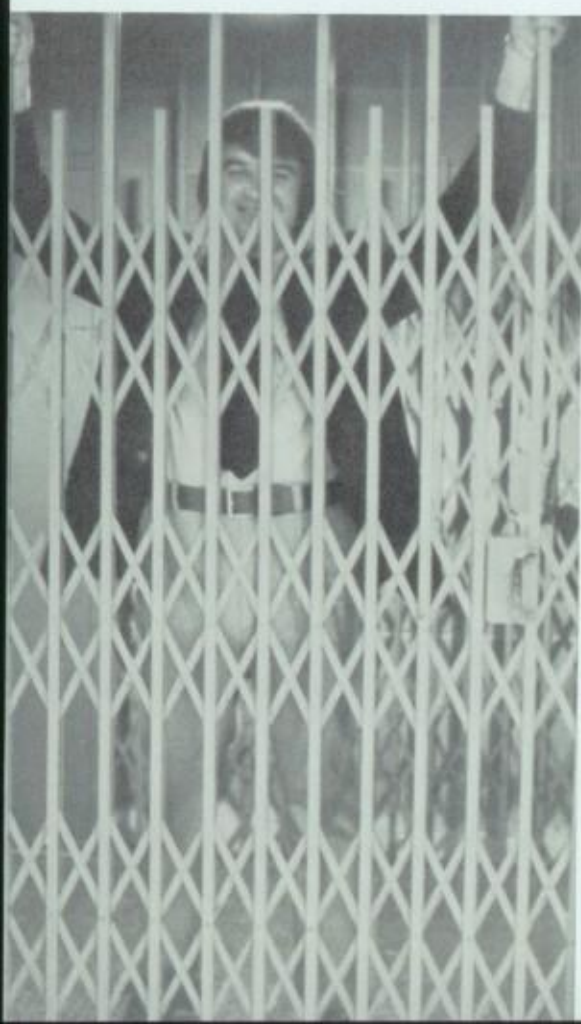

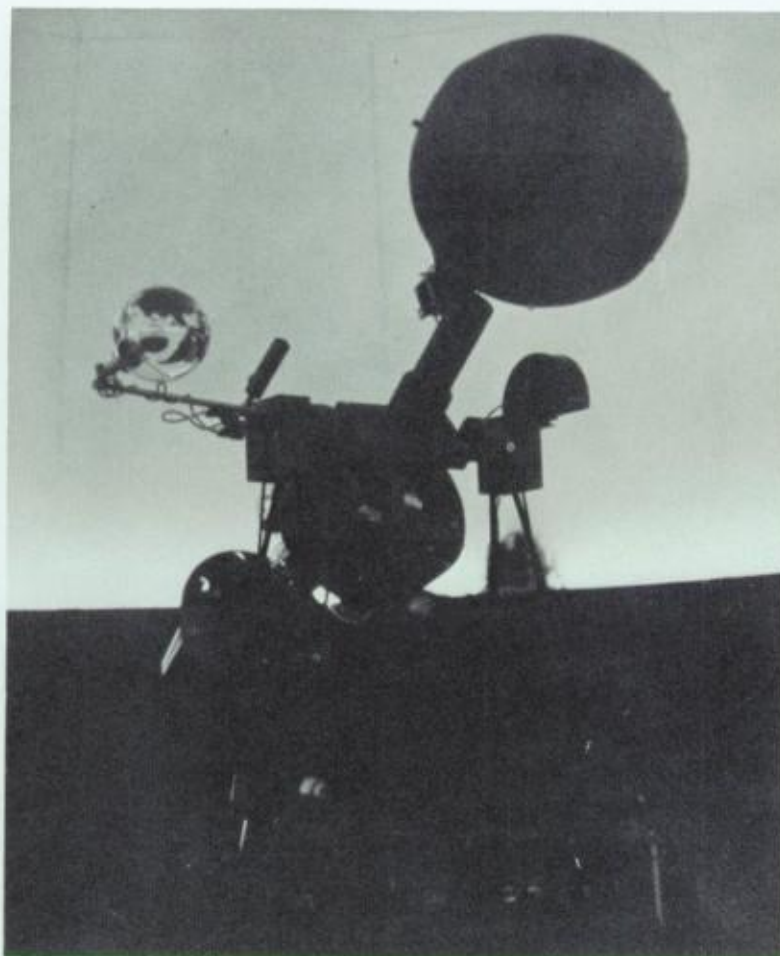

After the local, vocal talent, Hempfield hosted two fantastic groups of traveling musicians. The folk group "Life" appeared on stage in the afternoon of December 20. The ten performers were a welcomed Christmas package and put everyone in a merry holiday spirit. Just as the students were beginning to recover from their Christmas bonus, the music of the "Free Fare" group echoed through the halls. These five fun-loving guys even came back for a night concert which will long be remembered.

Each of these groups included elements of comedy, audience participation, and surprise in their acts. Perhaps the most thought-provoking surprises were references to faith — in God, in yourself, and in others. The groups got their kicks from making people happy and encouraged the audience to spread their message of love.

Hempfield is an enormous school in size as well as number of students. There are probably some parts of the building where you — even after having been here for three years — may never have seen or ventured into. But these places, though less frequented, all serve an important purpose. What are these places? Well, for an example 219B. "Where in the h___l is 219B?" It's found in the main hall upstairs, commonly known as the yearbook office. Does that surprise you? How about 102? Do you know what's found there? Or room 101A? Could you tell me where to find it? Room 102 serves as the home of our Spartan Band while 101A is known to most astronomy students as the Planetarium. Where else haven't you explored? The dark-room? Rooms 401 and 402??? Hempfield is a big place! So don't be surprised if you happen to discover someplace new some day. Cause it's there. Hempfield's Hideaways do exist!

HEMPFIELD HIDEAWAYS

1/2-TIME

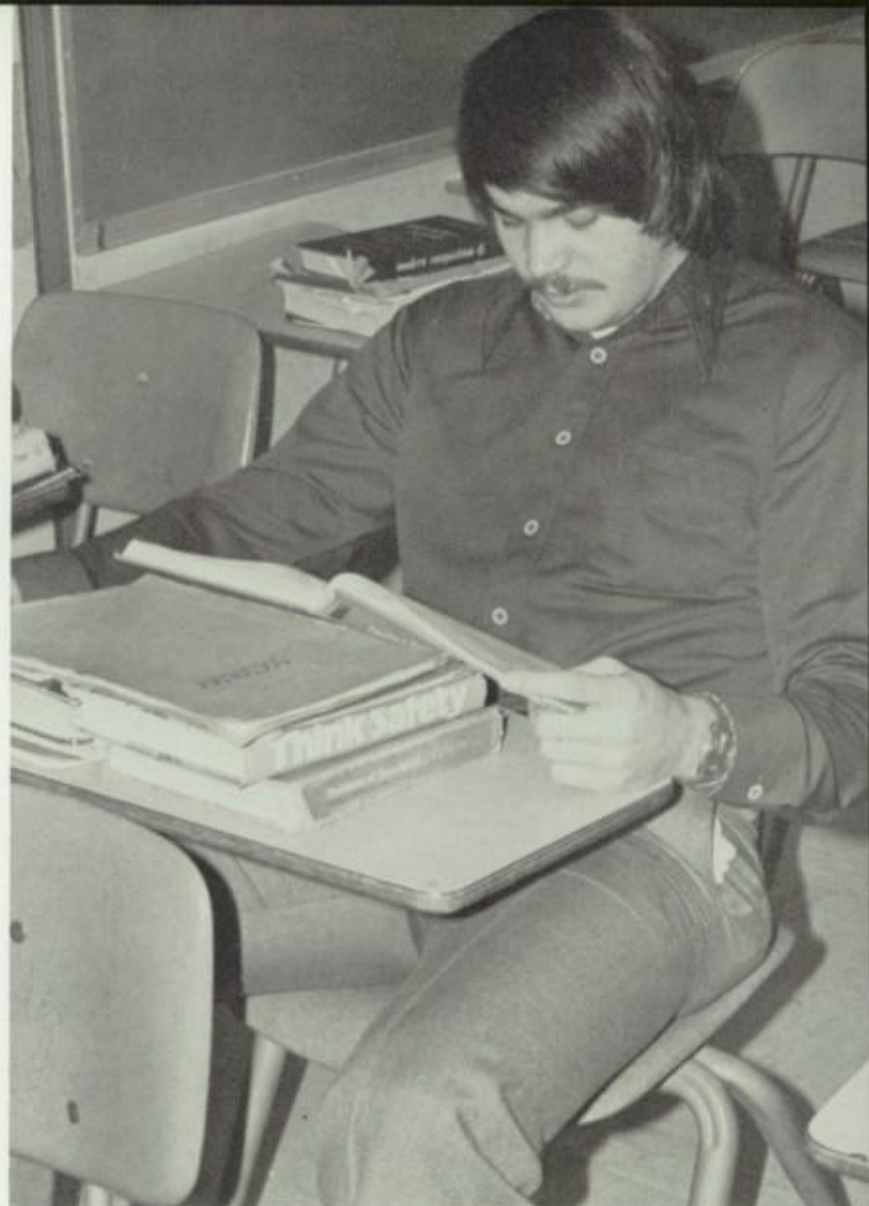

Halftime during the fall football season is an array of color and confusion. People are everywhere standing, pushing, walking, talking, and eating while "The Pride of Hempfield" takes the field and fills the warm, autumn air with sweet musical sounds, their flags waving in the breeze and their instruments glowing under the stadium lights. In every part of the stadium a sort of relaxation is found as tensions ease after the first half of a hard-fought game. On one occasion each fall, one glorious night is set aside to celebrate Homecoming, a time when the queen and her court are lavishly arrayed and presented flowers of springtime. Halftime is more or less a three-ring circus: relaxing, socializing, or giving what one has to offer.

In a surprisingly spontaneous objection to the higher cafeteria prices and lower-quality food, Hempfield students sacrificed their stomachs for their pride. But, in their refusal to swallow their pride, they didn't swallow much else, as nearly one-half of the cafeteria's regular customers withdrew their patronage in a week-long boycott. Some acted out of sincere concern, or perhaps because they were pressured by their peers. Others participated just to go along with the crowd, and still others consented just for rebellion's sake. But, whatever the motivation, the students can be credited with at least a partial success in the fulfillment of their requests, and certainly a total one in the effectiveness of their actions.

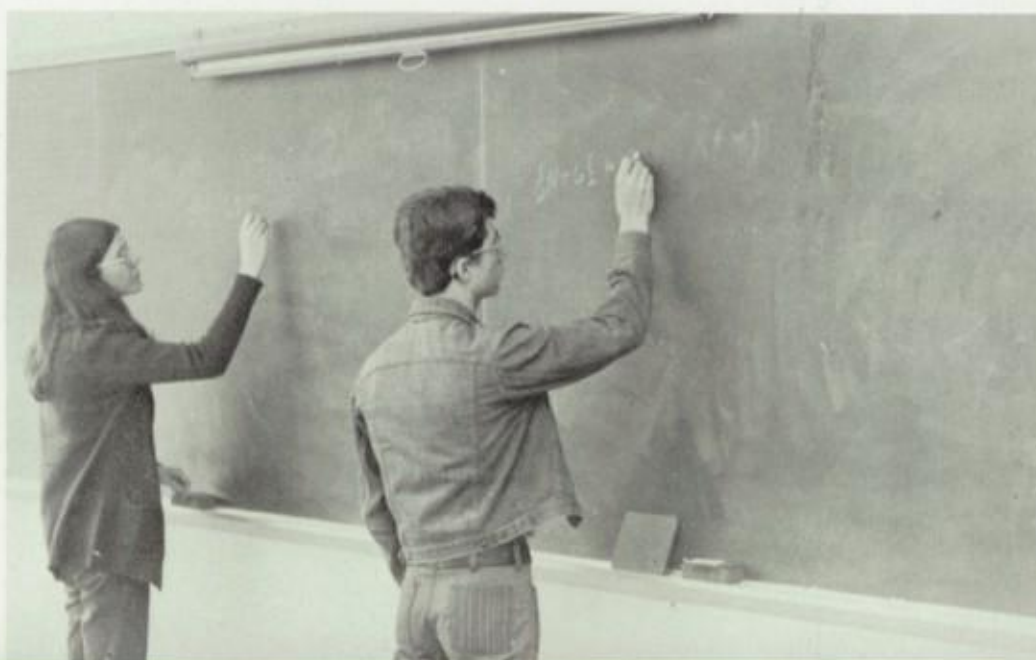

Do people in Hempfield really study??? Contrary to popular opinion, yes! Occasionally between dances, plays, assemblies, and games, one may come upon an ambitious person tackling the dreaded task of studying.

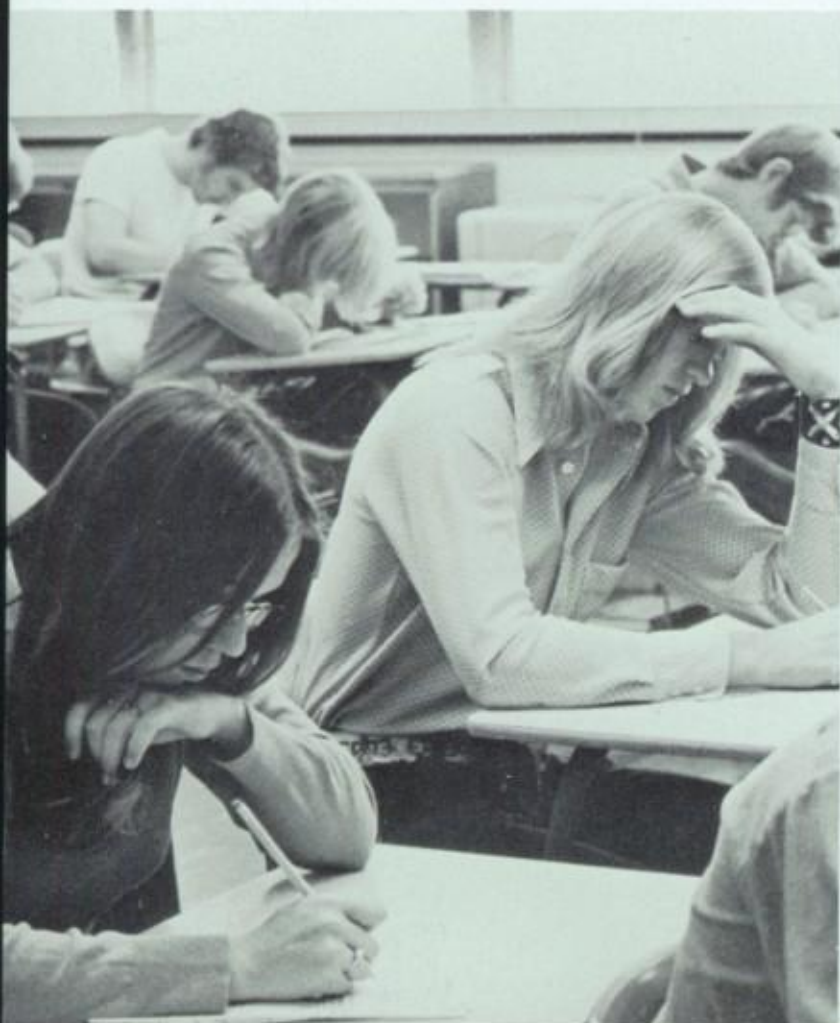

Studying comes in many forms. It ranges from staying up until four in the morning memorizing theorems for a math test to finding out by word of mouth the true-false answers to the history test and writing them on your hand.

Many times, though, studying is forgotten altogether, and the student must use his creative ability to convince the teacher of his "good intentions." "My term paper would have been done, but my pet frog died last night." . . . "But you said we weren't having the test until Friday!" "May I go to the nurse's office? I think I'm coming down with the Black Plague." Unfortunately, teachers aren't easily convinced. Many times the student must take the hard way out by actually learning.

CHANGE

Lynn Selway

Hempfield is an ever-changing body. Every day new ideas are conceived and born. These new ideas result in change. Change is essential to Hempfield and keeps it growing.

These changes may be new rules, teachers, classes or programs; but whatever the change, it is usually for the best. Although the student body often has trouble accepting these changes, they are necessary for Hempfield's struggle to be the best.

THE PRIDE

"The Pride of Hempfield" is the Spartan Marching Band. If you think the band only marches at football halftimes you are in for a big surprise!

The band trudges up the hill toward the football field near the water tower every day for two weeks each summer. They practice in the blistering sun as well as the mud-filled summer showers.

Although shouts of "Guide that line!" . . . "Run it back!" . . . "Do your little ditty!" . . . "You're nothing but a bunch of stones!" mean nothing to you unless you are in the band, those sayings are among the things that make the Hempfield band what it is — "The Pride"!

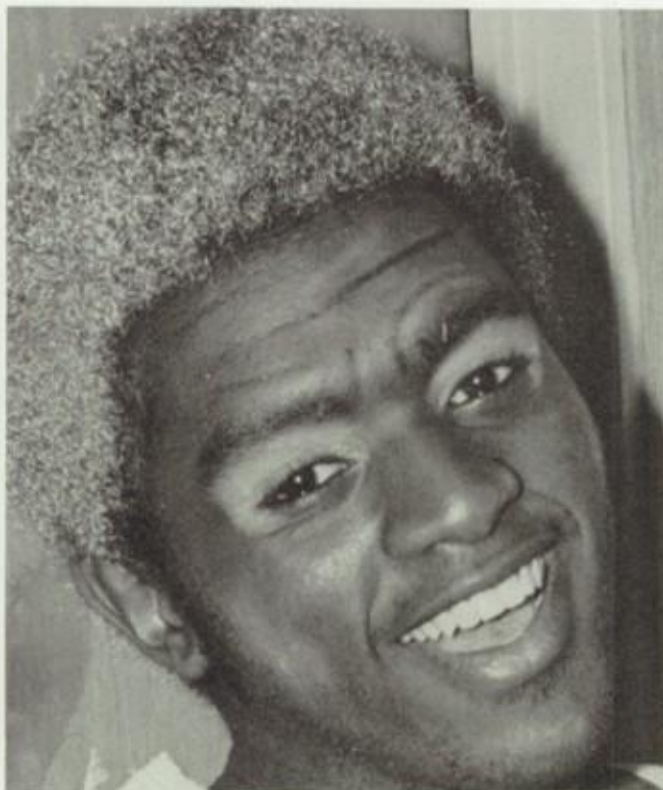

SPOOKS

Order, mystery, intrigue? The fall play, "Spooks," had all three and wove them into a suspenseful plot. Old Mr. Blackwell had passed away, leaving behind a spooky secretary and maid and a "haunted" mansion. When his heirs come to collect their shares of the fortune, they are met at the door by the deaf and dumb maid, Judy (Jan Prevenslik), and mysterious things begin to happen. The old man's secretary, Mrs. Willoughby (Belinda Wenski), is found dead, and the inspector (Dave Falvo) is sent to investigate the death. He suspected Elliot Butfield (Doug Mertz) of the murder, but before this could be proven, the inspector was murdered. After the second death, a nurse (Terri Stabile) arrived to care for the frightened heirs, Laurette (Kelly Sanderbeck) and Marion (Karen Metrisin). In actuality, the nurse was a detective and pinned the murders on Judy and her illegitimate son, Tom (Ralph Kunkle). Douglas (Mike Carasella), another heir, and Laurette became engaged. The mystery had been solved and the fortune was divided.

WILDCAT

"Hey, Look Me Over, Lend Me An Ear" — That's just what Centavo City did as Wildcat Joe Dynamite (Patti Potter) a raging tomboy, stormed into town in search of land, Joe Dynamite (Diane Taylor), and oil. Wildy and sister Janie (Missy Paich) arrive in Centavo City in a broken down Stutz Bearcat with nothing but a dream and the clothes on their backs and are taken in by the eccentric Countess Emily O'Brien (Diane Taylor). The shy Janie is being pursued by Hank (Mike Sober), Joe's Mexican sidekick. Wildy fast talks Sookie (Harry Chisolm), the dirtiest man in the western hemisphere, into leasing her his land, and formulates a plan with the sheriff (Diane Mertz) to get Joe to work for her. Wildy finds her oil bums (Mike Carasella, Jeff Lawson, Dianne Martin, Ken Schweinsburg, and George Striker). The big day comes, and Joe announces that the well is dry. Meanwhile, Hank wins Janie, the Countess finally catches Sookie and cleaves him up. Wildy dynamites the well, winning her quest for oil and an extra bonus — winning the love of Joe.

THE BUS

Riding a Bus

Hempfield Style Is . . .

trying to avoid conversations during the morning ride because you rushed out of the house without brushing your teeth.

being hypnotized by a beautiful sunrise and breaking the spell with thoughts of the colorless building ahead.

always taking for granted a safe trip over Route 136 — till you are "rerouted."

resisting the juvenile urge to graffiti a fogged winter window.

shuffling off the bus and forgetting to pick up your lunch.

smuggling your coat into seventh period to insure a fair start in the 3 o'clock race to the bus.

exchanging jealous glances with student drivers in their comfortable cars, impatiently waiting to file out of the parking lot.

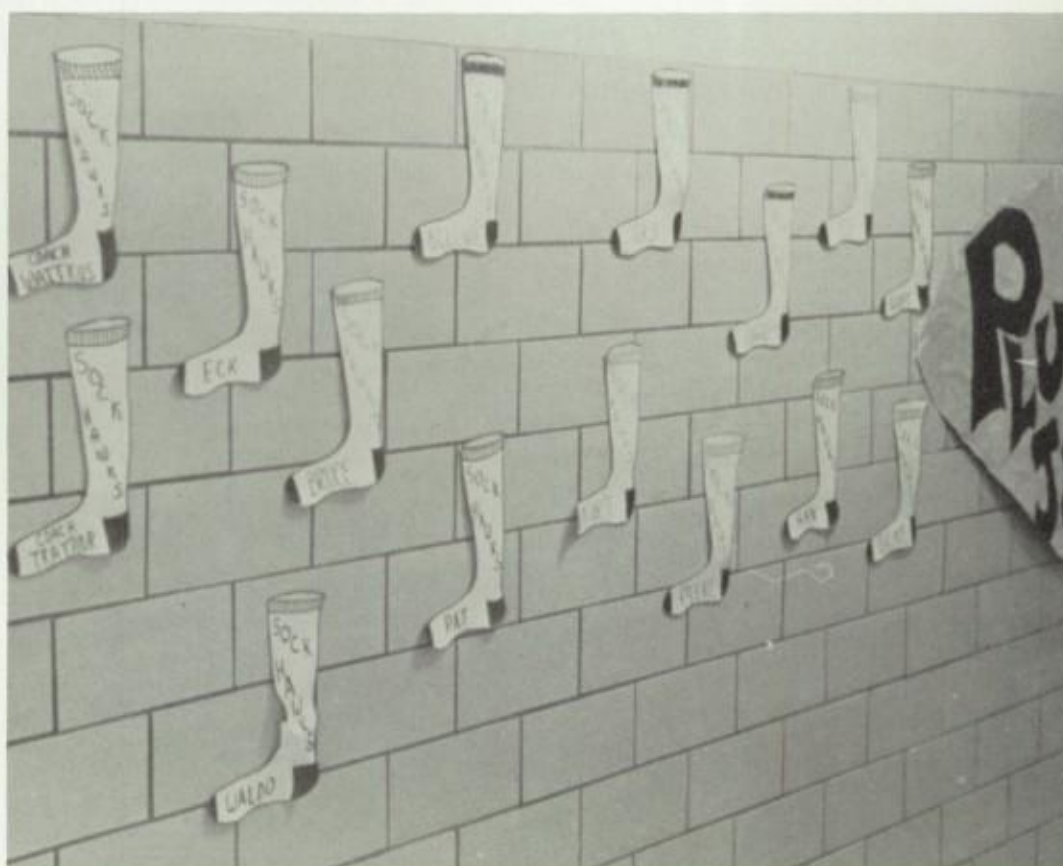

reluctantly supporting your partner across the aisle
by applying the same kind of side pressure that pushed you half off the seat.

convincing the health nut in front of you to put up with the stale air and close his window until the storm subsides.

Hempfield style — a way of life.

BASKETBALL FEVER

REVENGE AT HOME

Spartans Stun Jayhawks, Move In On First Place

By Mike Smith

In mid-January a new disease hit Hempfield. It has been diagnosed as "Basketball Fever." Some of its symptoms were: sudden cravings for coconut pie, wearing number 1 signs, making posters, and wishing the basketball team "Good Luck."

One group had such a bad case of the fever that they were out at one o'clock in the morning looking for players' homes to put Good Luck signs in their yards. One stricken member spent January 23 dressed as a lion.

As an innocent bystander amid the crowd, I found myself leaving earlier and earlier for the games in order to get a seat or at least a space in which to stand.

Basketball Fever was a communicable disease! One had to take care not to sit near the "sickies." Even so, most everyone caught it (or should I say it caught most everyone). All in all, it was by far the most enjoyable disease I have ever had!

Micki,

No one of the sweetest (ha, ha) girls I know.
Don't ever forget the things that happened in Homeroom (red tape) - I'm still waiting to be paid back for that. And by the way, I will never forgive you for losing my Baskin-Robbins beach ball! Can you believe it - only 1 more year of misery to go. Have fun this summer and take care.

September is a month of challenges and expectations for everyone, including the yearbook staff. For ~~the staff~~ us it was organizing and ~~getting~~ molding the members of the staff into a unified body. As the year progressed, the yearbook did also; and now we find it hard to believe that ^{the} cause of sleepless nights, strained emotions, after school hours and missed classes is now a reality. This book, as the many before it, would not have been possible without the help of ~~our~~ the staff. We would like to give special thanks to Pam, Danette, Mr. Duffy, Mr. Gradler and basically the ~~whole~~ entire world for all the help and co-operation we received.

SERVE

In Your Local Air Force Reserve

Open to Seniors and Graduates

Not only is the Air Force Reserve Non-Prior Service Enlistment Program open to most civilians who are out of high school, it's also possible for you, as a high school senior, to join the Air Force Reserve during your last year of school and attend basic training and technical school after graduation.

The Air Force Reserve Encourages You to Continue Your Education

Advantages

Acquiring a marketable skill may well be the most important advantage the Air Force Reserve can offer, but there are also many other opportunities. Some of these are:

You obtain your initial training with as little as four months active duty. You will serve the remainder of your 6-year enlistment with an Air Force Reserve unit in or near your hometown. There will be a minimum disruption of your civilian life so that you can continue your education if you desire. Promotions are made regularly depending upon your demonstrated abilities and time in service. The Air Force Reserve has a liberal retirement plan.

Mikki,
 to a really crazy girl who I've suffered through a lot of classes with. Always remember our "Pal" Mr Graham & our great(?) homeroom. Have a great summer. Hope to see ya. Good luck in everything you do

Mikki,
 To a real nice
 cute girl I've known since Wendover. Good Luck
 see ya next yr.
 John Lichter

Mikki,
 To a nice person who happens to be a crazy one too. Good luck with PaDe (Bill!) and call over the summer (863-0233)
 if you find the time.

luv
 gina
 George.

Mikki,
 is a really crazy guy
 who cracks me up during gym.
 Hope to see you this summer. Call sometime ok. Good luck in all you do and even with Dave.
 Love, Linda C.

Mikki - that's
 I take it spell word? but have a that
